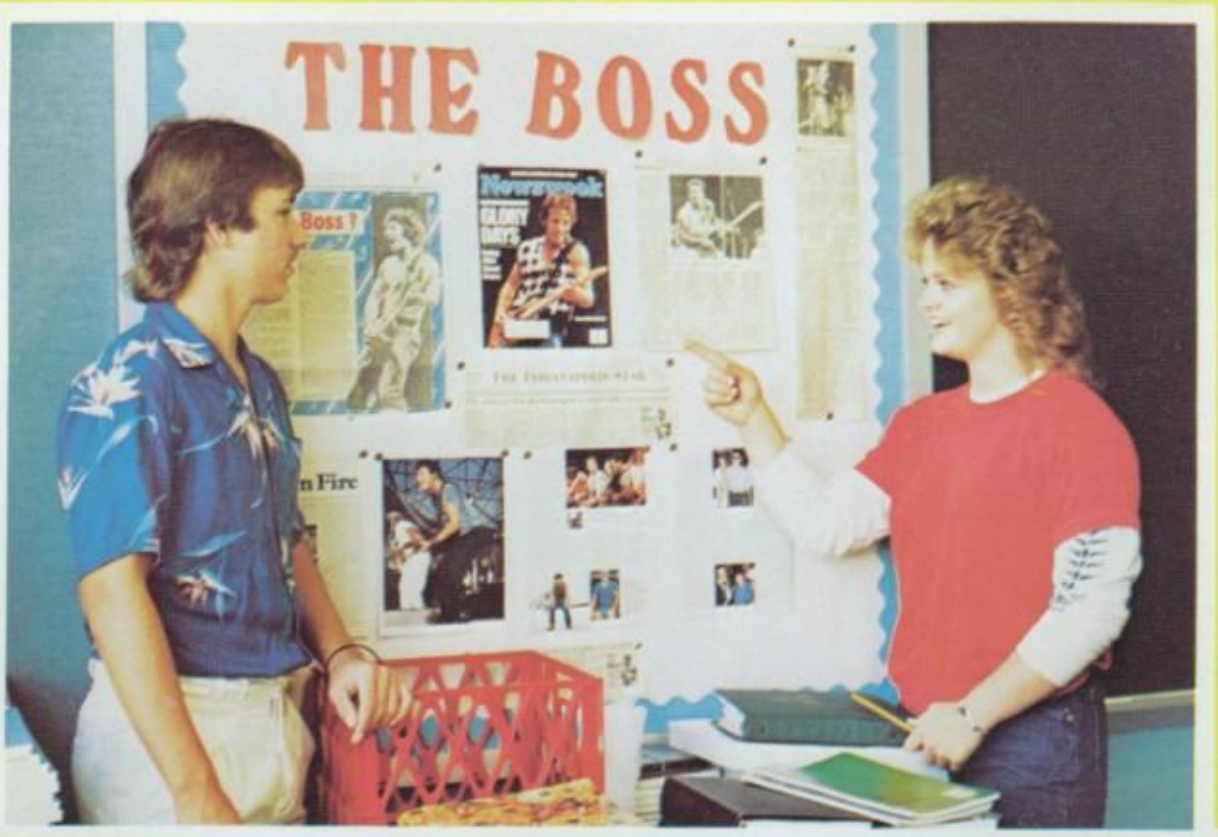
Everyday we "Envision" aspirations for ourselves in day dreams of hope. Throughout this book this typical Pendleton Heights High School student will be seen Envisioning those goals for himself. Hopefully, by seeing his dreams you will Envision your own.



Top: Todd Rankin and Onnie Cave take notice of a bulletin board featuring the exciting Bruce Springsteen during the first school day.

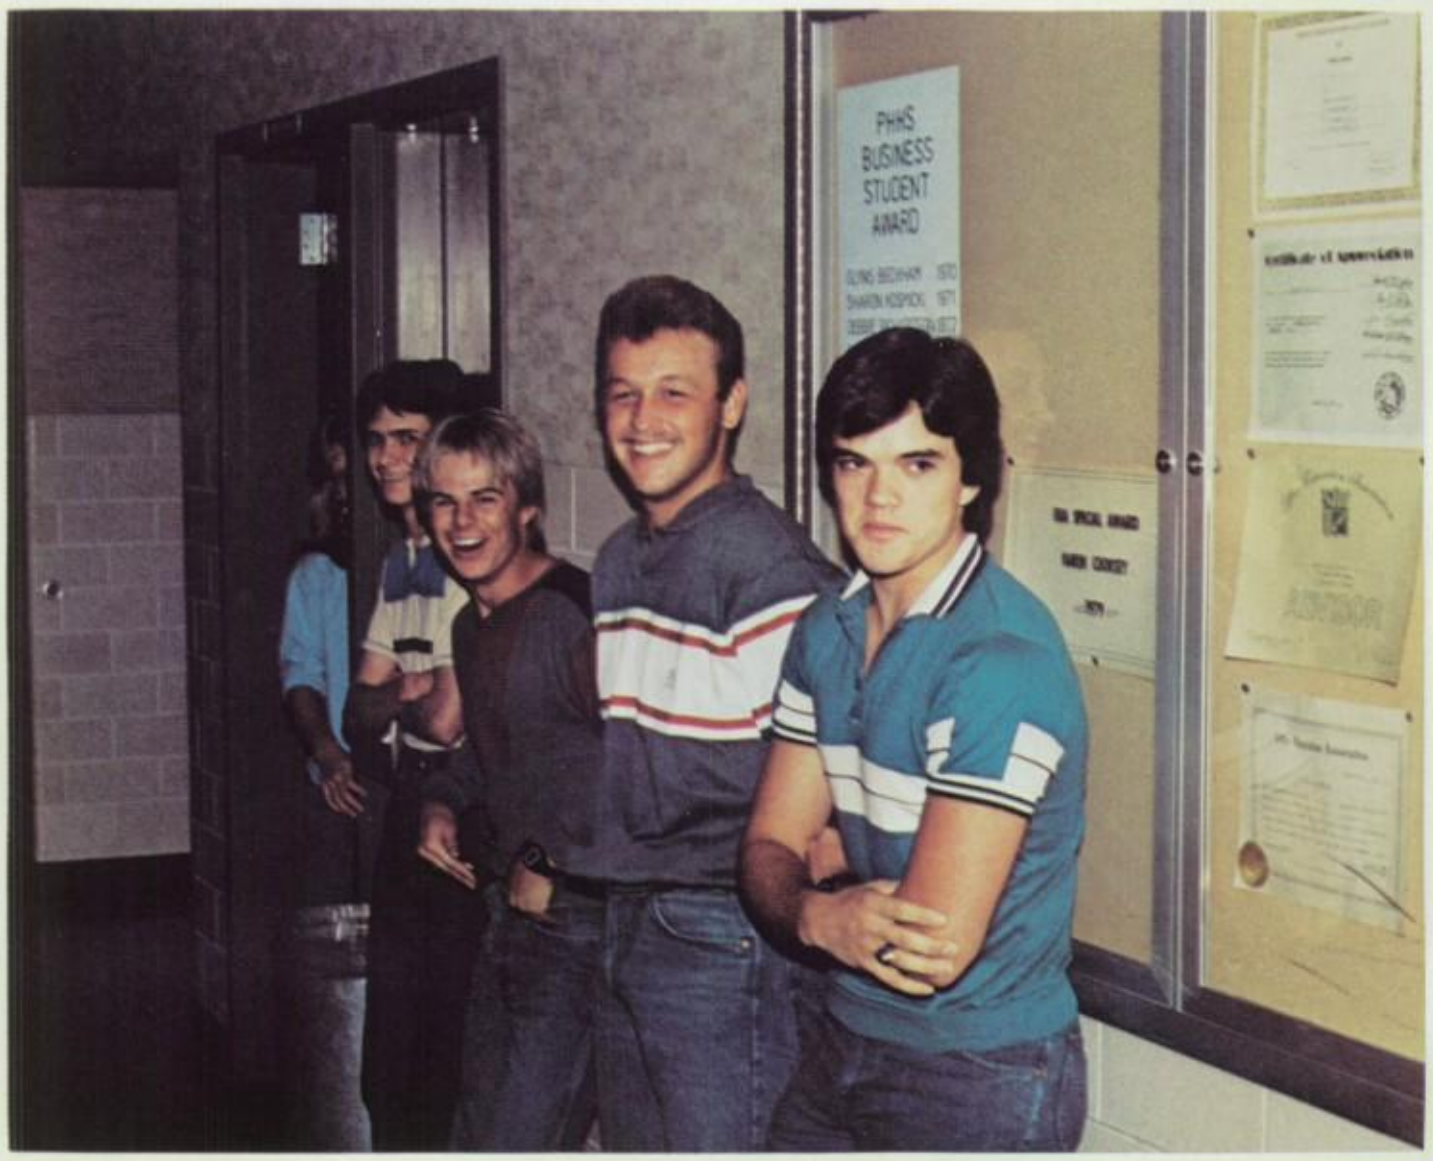
Right: The first day of school always finds old friends back together for a new school year.



An upstairs wall is being held up very well by Lance Reger, Dennis Wallen, Dale Robinson, and Brenden Smith.

Top right: Lori Byrd, gym assistant, finds her way through the clutter on Mrs. Boyer's desk.

Every year at the beginning of school a big event is underclass pictures, here Larry Russel poses Jason Childers for his best shot.

Dee Dee Wolfe awaits Mrs. Koch to finish "playing" before she pays her French club dues.

In a frantic rush Karl Khynell uses before school hours to finish up his homework in the main hall.

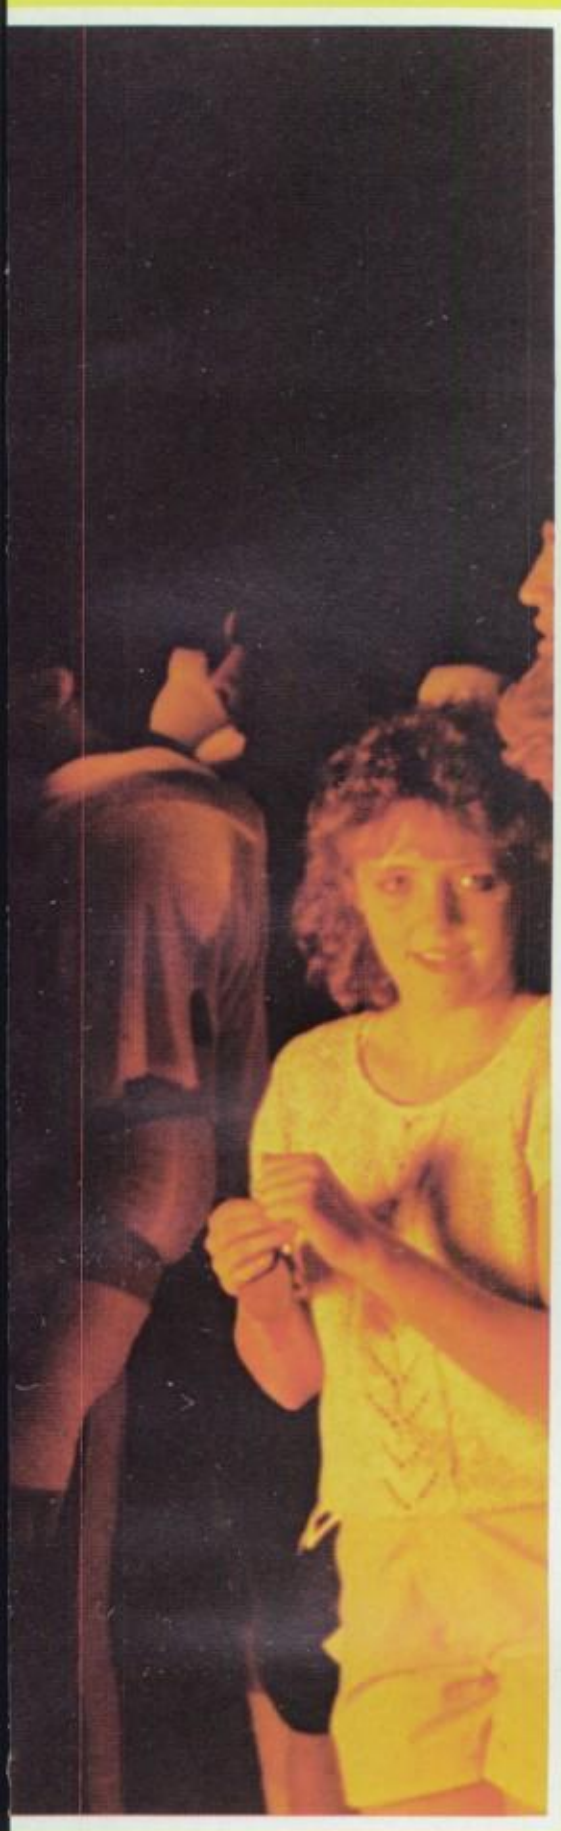
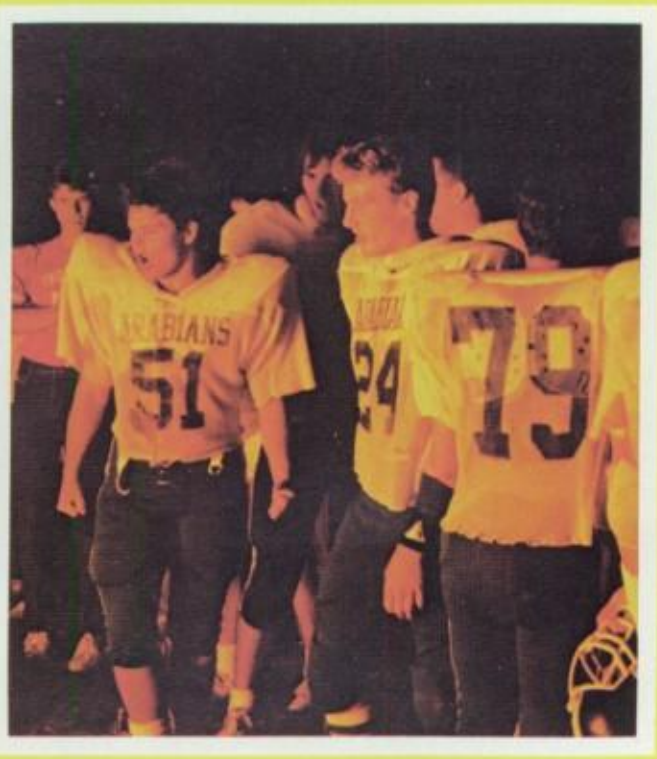
Top: During the fall season, one of the highlights is the bonfire. Even though it is hard work for the team and the coaching staff, the student body and faculty enjoy the festive activities very much.

Right: Coach Broughton is dreaming of another Arabian Victory.





Top: Our Arabian team practiced diligently for their next game against the Delta Eagles.

Middle: Cheerleaders try to raise the spirit of the crowds by chanting enthusiastic cheers.

PHS 1985 HOMECOMING

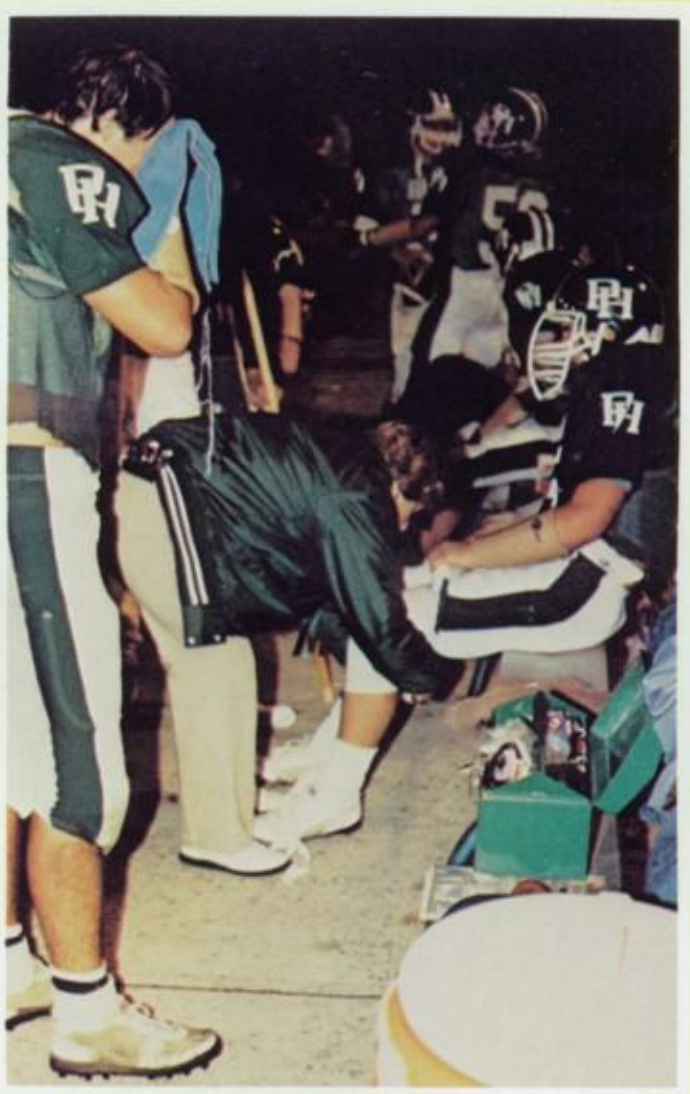
The band spent many hours in preparation for homecoming activities.

"The Thing," owned by Jim Biddle, was decorated by W.E.E.M. Staff members and traveled to every game to broadcast.

Christy Mercer is filled with excitement after being crowned homecoming queen. Here Letha Ashburn, last year's queen, congratulates her.

Mr. Hutton shouts, "The Arabians are coming! The Arabians are coming!"

The junior class spent a lot of time planning and building their float. The result of this was first place.



Barb Hoover, the head trainer at Pendleton Heights, is responsible for taking care of injured players. Here she is taping up Jeff Kincade.

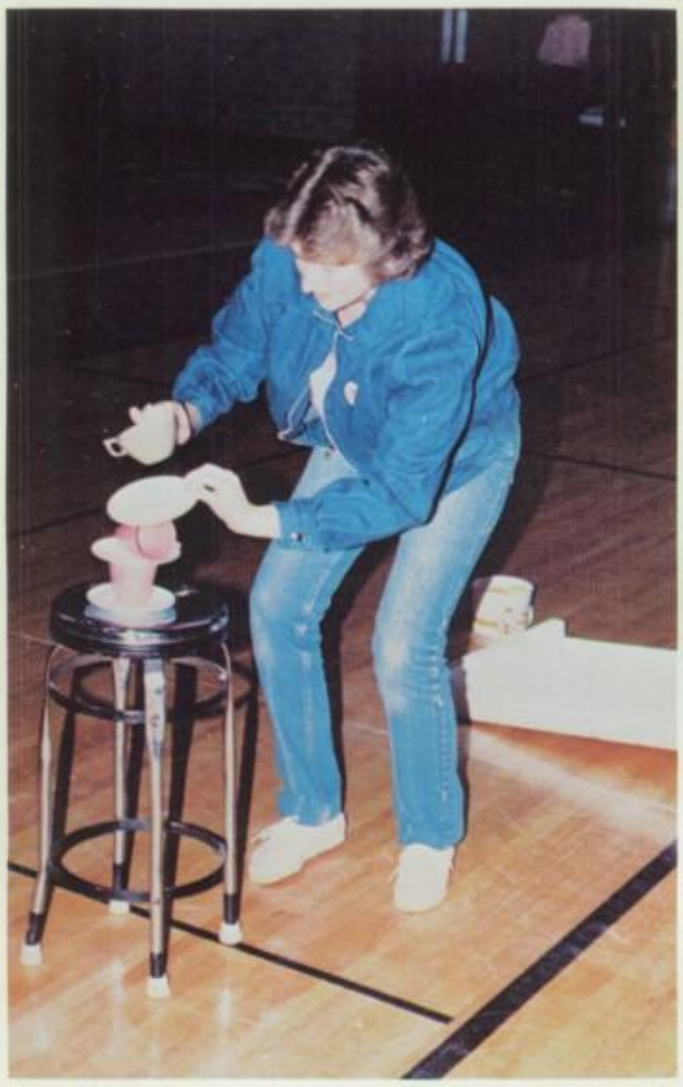
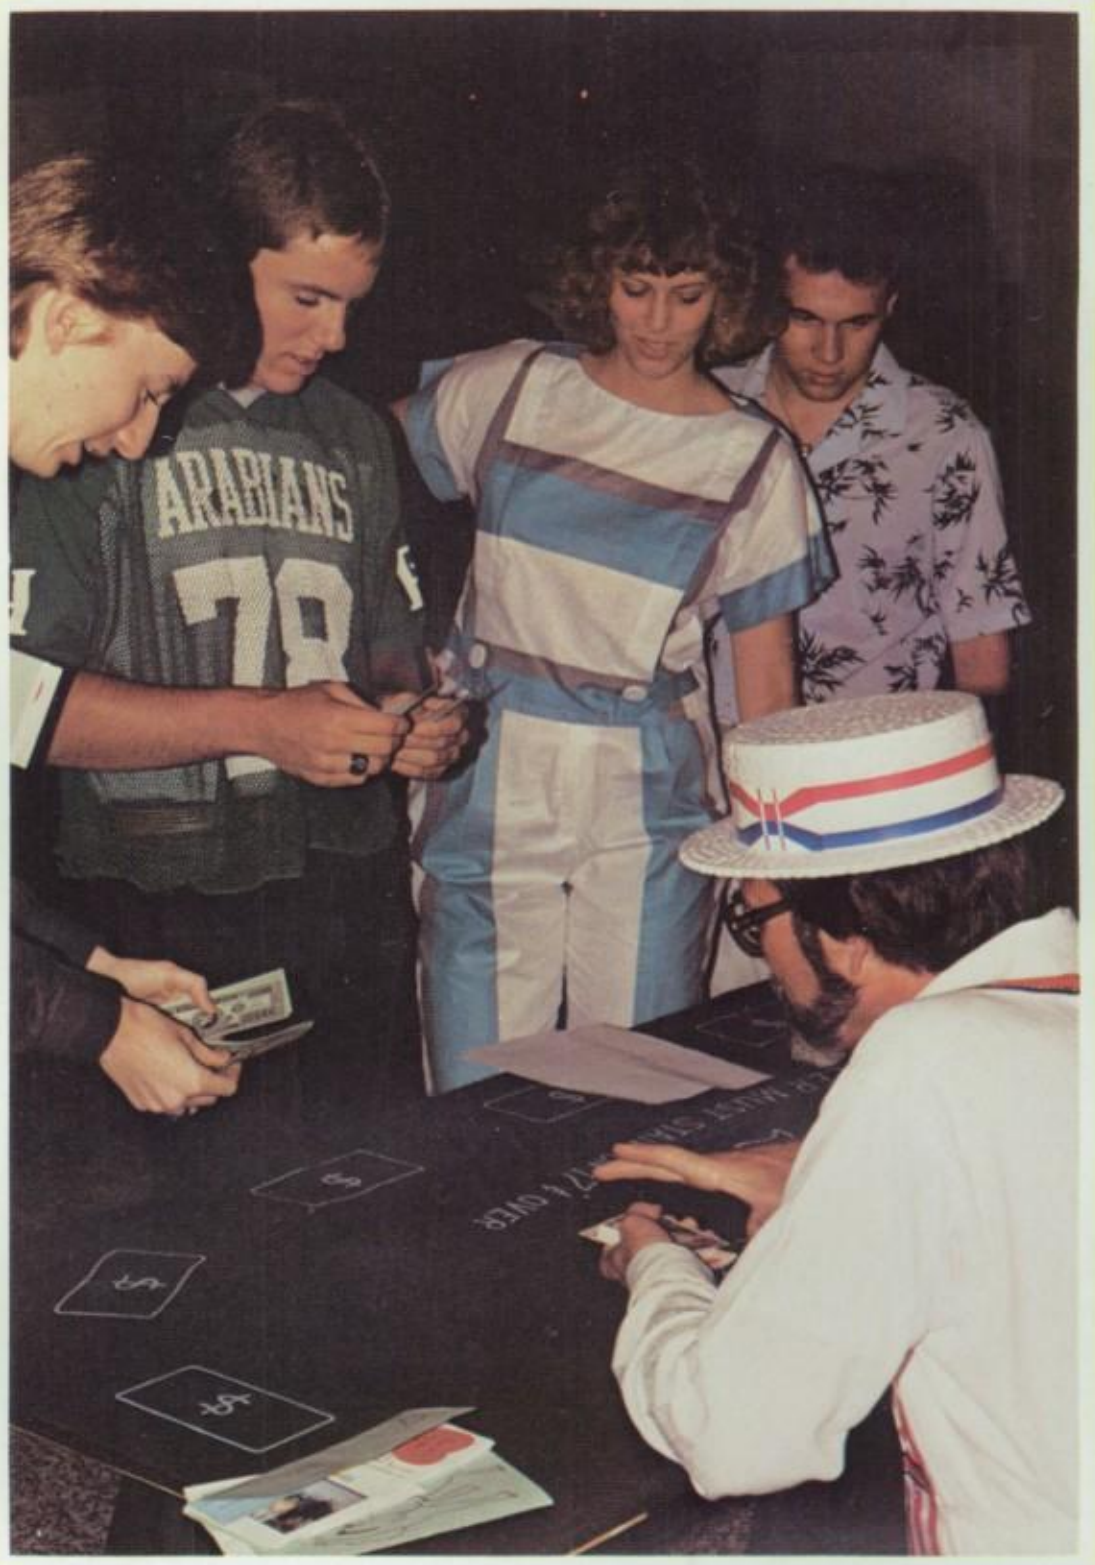
WELCOME TO THE BIG APPLE

"New York, New York" was the theme for the 1985 Post Prom. PHHS was transformed into the many faces of New York City. The students enjoyed a "Saturday Night Live" performance in the pit. As usual, there were casino games, horse races, and fortune tellers for everyone to enjoy. One of the highlights of the evening was to take a walk through "Central Park". The students had fun during the evening trying to figure out who the bag ladies really were.





Top right: Erik Schmitz, Sharon Owens, Darrin McLary, and Steven Keller, all compulsive gamblers, try to win more "Skinner Bucks" at the Black Jack table.

At right: The lobby of the high school was transformed into a New York box office. This was the junior and senior gateway to the "Big Apple."

Above right: Andrea Cloud and Joy Phillips share their hotdogs with the local baglady, Miss Hoover, while Pam McAtee and Dee Dee Wolfe stay a safe distance away.

Above: Laura Ketterman and Blain Cook take a rest from the "Big Apple" and count their coupons.

The Juniors and Seniors Dance

The Queen and King and their court: Rob Goulding, Keith Gaskill, Letha Ashburn, Amy Chapman, Prince Jason Barton, King Randy Baker, Queen Angie Garner, Princess Leslie Butler, Laura Ketterman, Christy Gasparovic, Steve Kirk, and Mike Hillian.

1985 Prom Queen Angie Garner was crowned by 1984 Queen Lisa Ray.

Anxiously awaiting that exciting moment, everyone watches to see who's going to be crowned Queen and King.

"All Through the Night"

Michelle Burch and Roy Ellis take a short break from dancing to enjoy a fresh glass of punch.

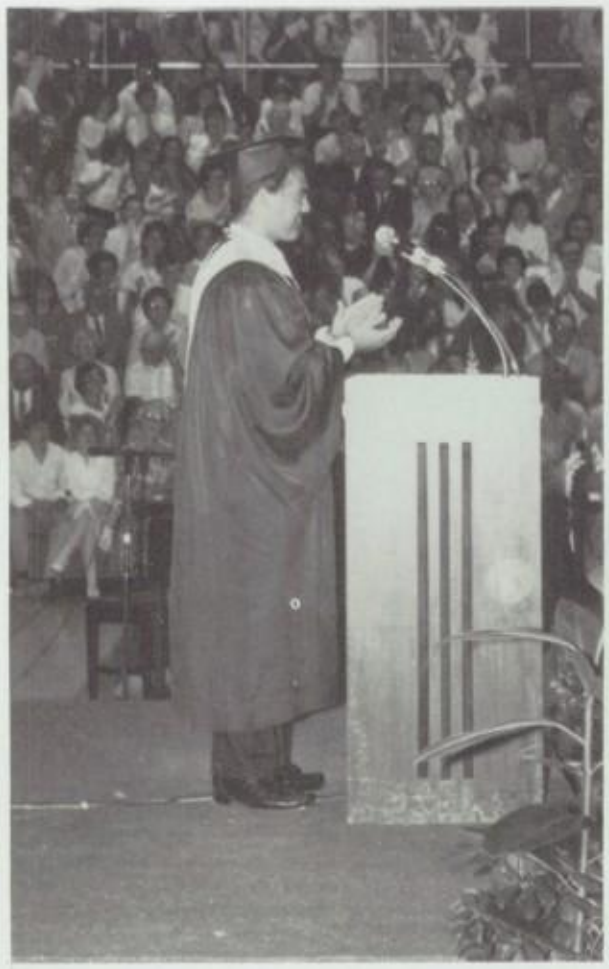
The 1985 Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Murat Temple Saturday, May 18. The theme was "All Through The Night" and the colors were Pink and Grey. Some 400 students and 20 faculty members danced to the music of Nuvoe. Angie Garner was crowned Queen and Randy Baker was crowned King. Leslie Butler and Jason Barton were crowned Princess and Prince.

Chris Surface and Scott Overdorf talk as they dance together.

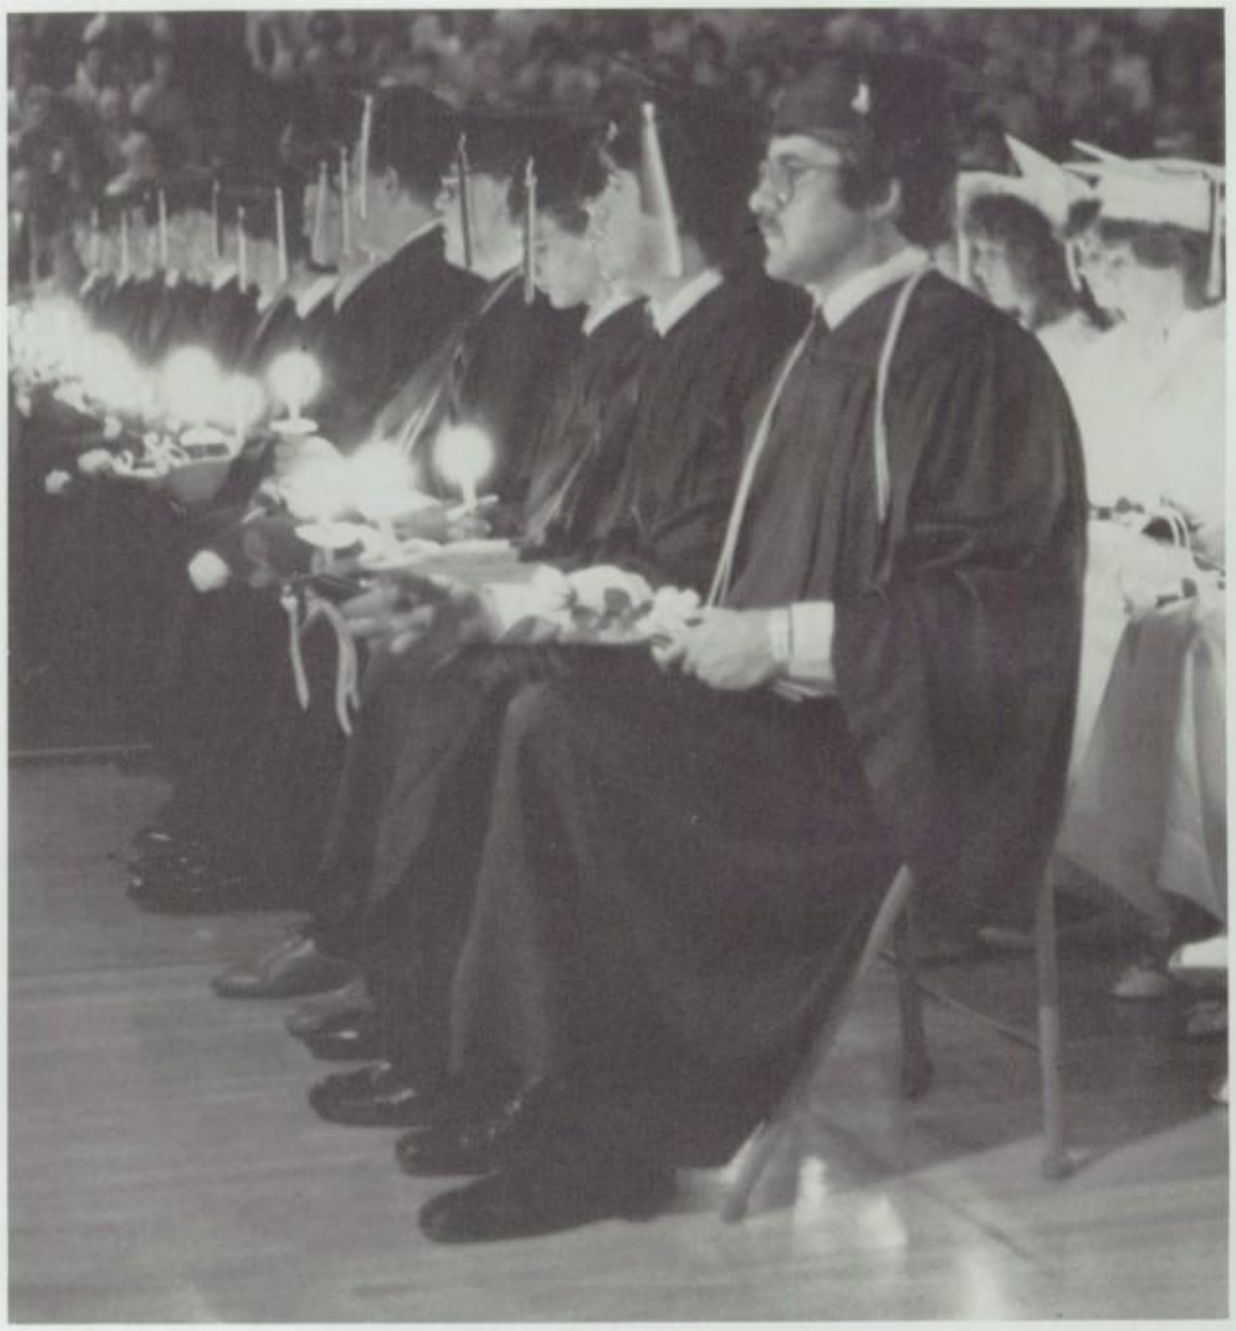
Cindy West and Derrek Britton enjoy dancing to a fast song.

"No Good-byes"

The 16th commencement of Pendleton Heights High School was held on June 2, 1985. Monica Ashba, Angela Odle, and Paula Hilliker sang the song "No Good-byes." Commencement was a time of many emotions. Some people were worried about what lay ahead, others did not believe they finally made it, but all of them were happy.



Spero Karas, class president, applauds the accomplishments of the class of 1985.



The most emotional part of commencement was the candlelight ceremony.

Salutatorian Darcy Harrington reflects over the past four years as she addresses the class.

After having the class lean left and right to clean their chairs, valedictorian Paula Hilliker gives her formal address.

SENIORS

ENVISION THE FUTURE

This year Pendleton Heights will graduate the senior class of 1986. To many seniors graduation will be the end of twelve long years of schooling. Along with that graduation, though, is the promise of the future. As Pendleton Heights seniors envision their future, they see themselves having success. Therefore, not only is graduation an end of school, but also, it is a beginning of the future.

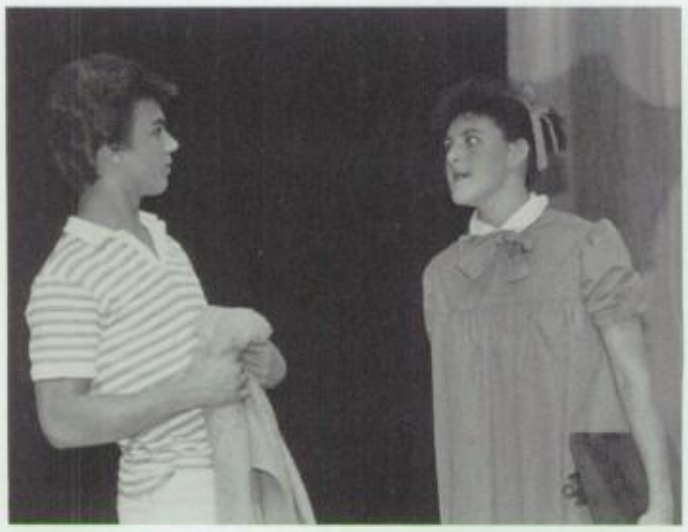
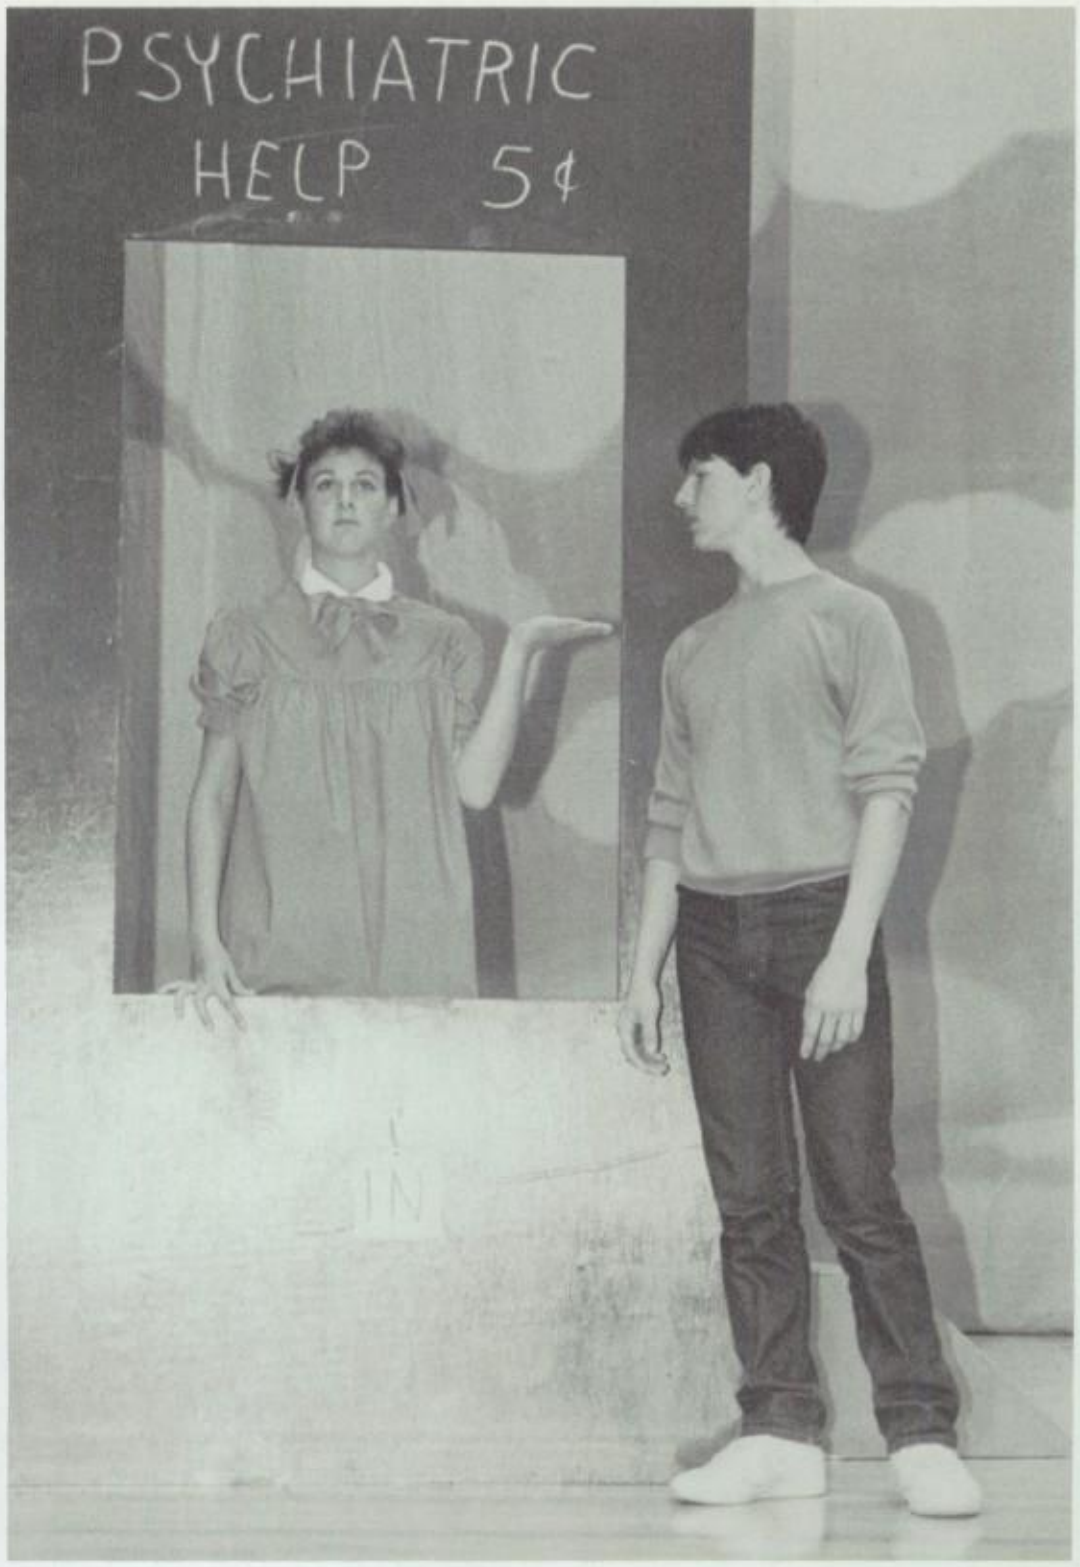
SPECIAL EVENTS

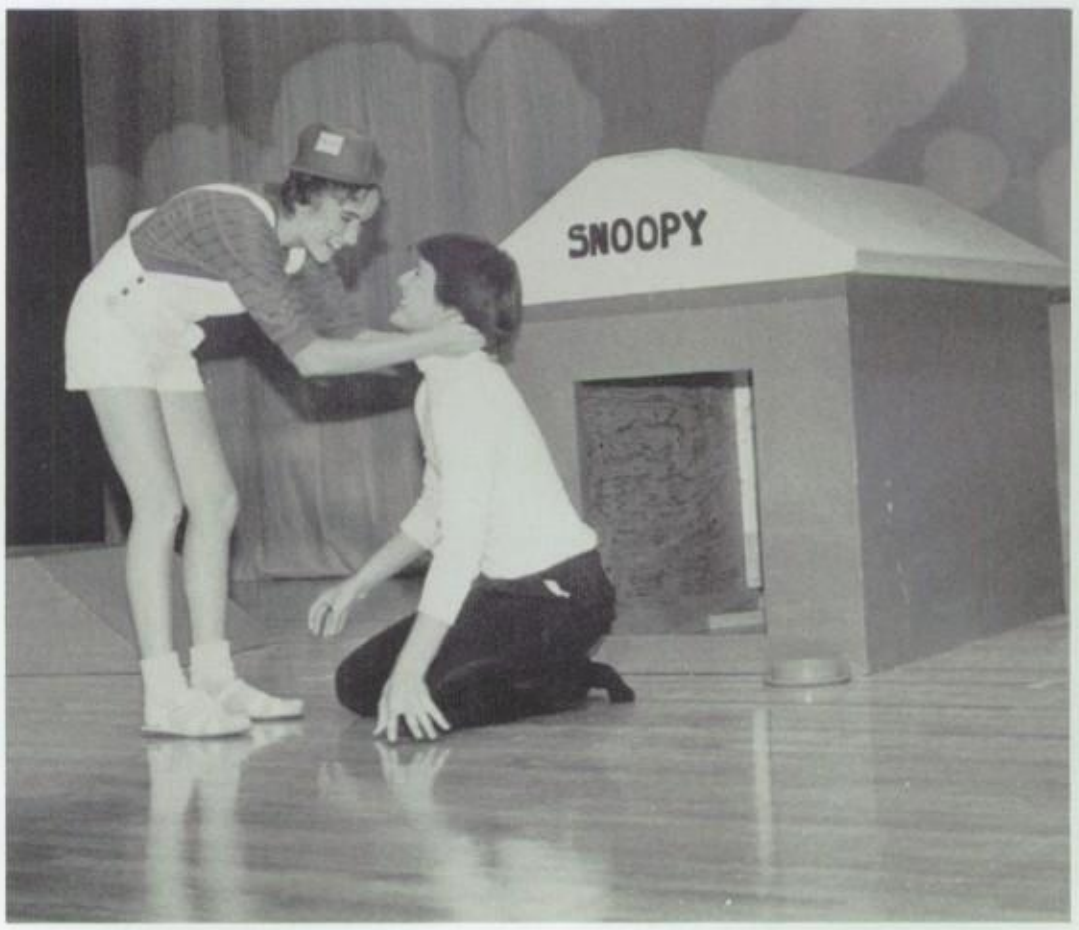


Lucy exclaims to Linus (Matt Schnitzius), "How dare you say I am crabby!"



Lucy (Tammie Steele) says to Charlie Brown (Ryan Egger), "That'll be 5¢, please."

At Right: Peppermint Patty (Tonya Short) says to Robert Goodwin, "You're a good dog, Snoopy."



Schroeder (Bill Dittlinger) rolls his eyes as Lucy sings off key.

"You're a Good Man Charlie Brown"

"Dean Ann Flanders; Valentines Day wasn't very exciting for me this year . . . "

This year was a very exciting one for the P.H.H.S. Choral Department. The department presented an adaptation of the Broadway musical, "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," at the newly refurbished Pendleton Middle School Auditorium. The small, but effective cast provided an enjoyable evening for many children, as well as the adults in the audience. The play was directed by Mr. James Scott and student teacher, Mr. Scot Cecil.

Before presenting "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," the crew and cast spend many hours rehearsing, adding final make-up touches, and preparing costumes. Pictured above is the entire cast.

Leslie Butler, Queen, receives roses from last year's Queen Letha Ashburn.

Amber Douglas and Eric Jones anxiously wait to see who will be crowned Queen.

Christmas in the Country

On Saturday, December 7, 1985, Sunsbine Society sponsored the Christmas Dance. The theme this year was "Christmas in the Country". Approximately 150 couples attended the dance from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. which was held at the school. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner and sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Williams were also in attendance.

Leslie Butler was crowned Queen. The other candidates were Christy Gasparovic, Laura Ketterman, Lesley Lockridge, and Christy Mercer.

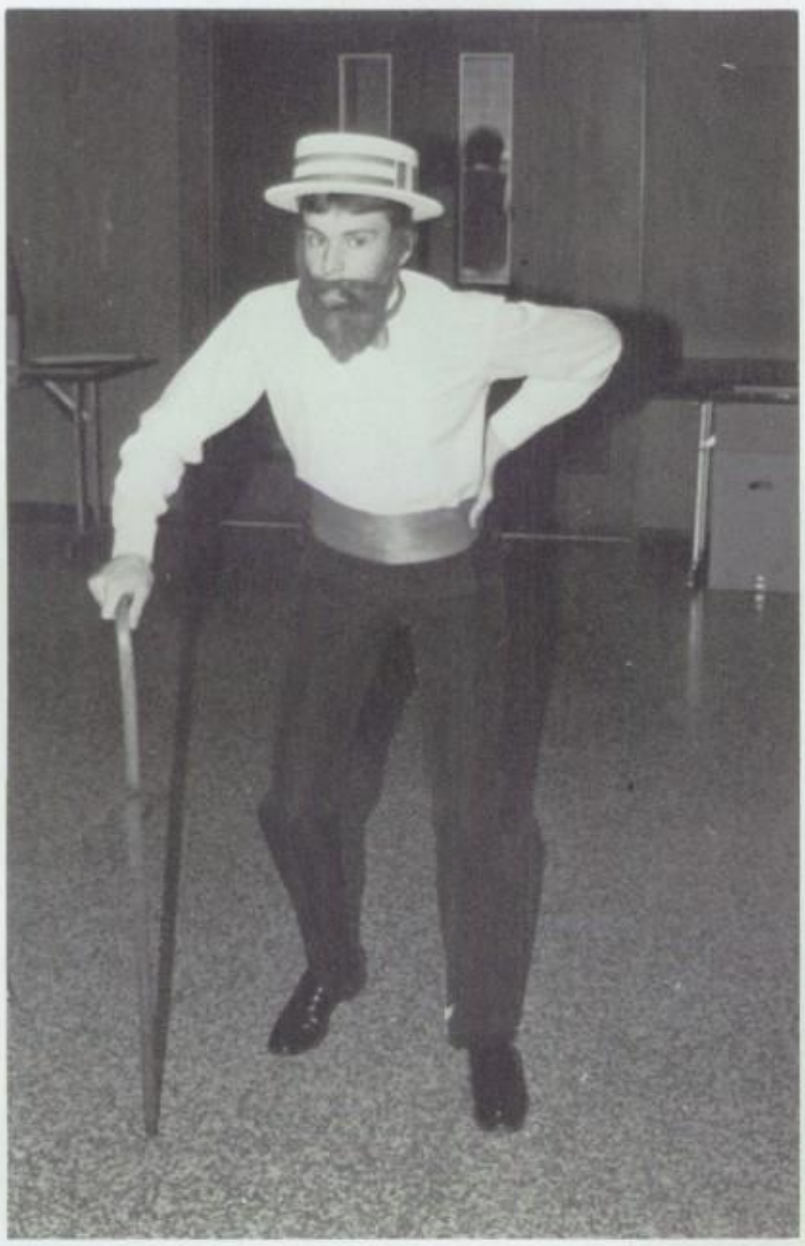
Jeanette Davis helps Mark Philbert straighten his flower.

Katrina Bussen and Rick Hurst get caught by surprise by the photographer.

Carrie Boots and David Branch strut their stuff at the Christmas Dance.

This year the Christmas Feast was held on December 4 at 6:30. The 232 guests that attended were served a delicious dinner while listening to music by the Pendletones. After dinner everyone moved into the pit. The Pendletones then performed an energetic medley of songs and finished the evening with an audience sing-along.

Debbie Marriott sings her solo of "The Gift Goes On".



Robert Goodwin hobbles in to do his part during the Christmas Feast.

All Jennifer Isbell and Julie Lusk want for Christmas is their two front teeth.

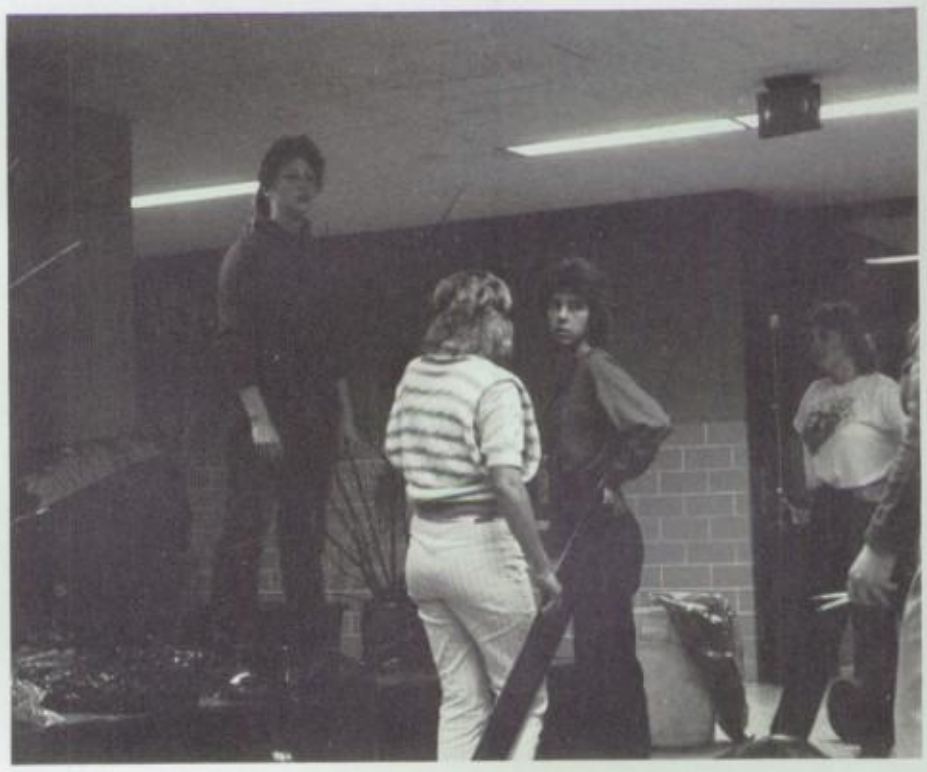
ACADEMICS

The Pendleton Heights Agriculture Department offers a spectrum of classes. These range from Agricultural Welding to Horticulture. The Horticulture class which is taught by Miss Dusenberry, provided us with a flower show this year and also does many things around the school and community. Mr. Wilson teaches such classes as Agricultural Welding, Vocational Agriculture, and Soils and Crops. He also coaches a livestock judging team and a soil judging team.

Miss Dusenberry seems to be having a bit of trouble with the Main Hall decorations.

Randall Fox and Phil Kreig work on their flower arrangements for the Horticulture class flower show.



Miss Dusenberry gives a little constructive advice about decorating a graveyard.

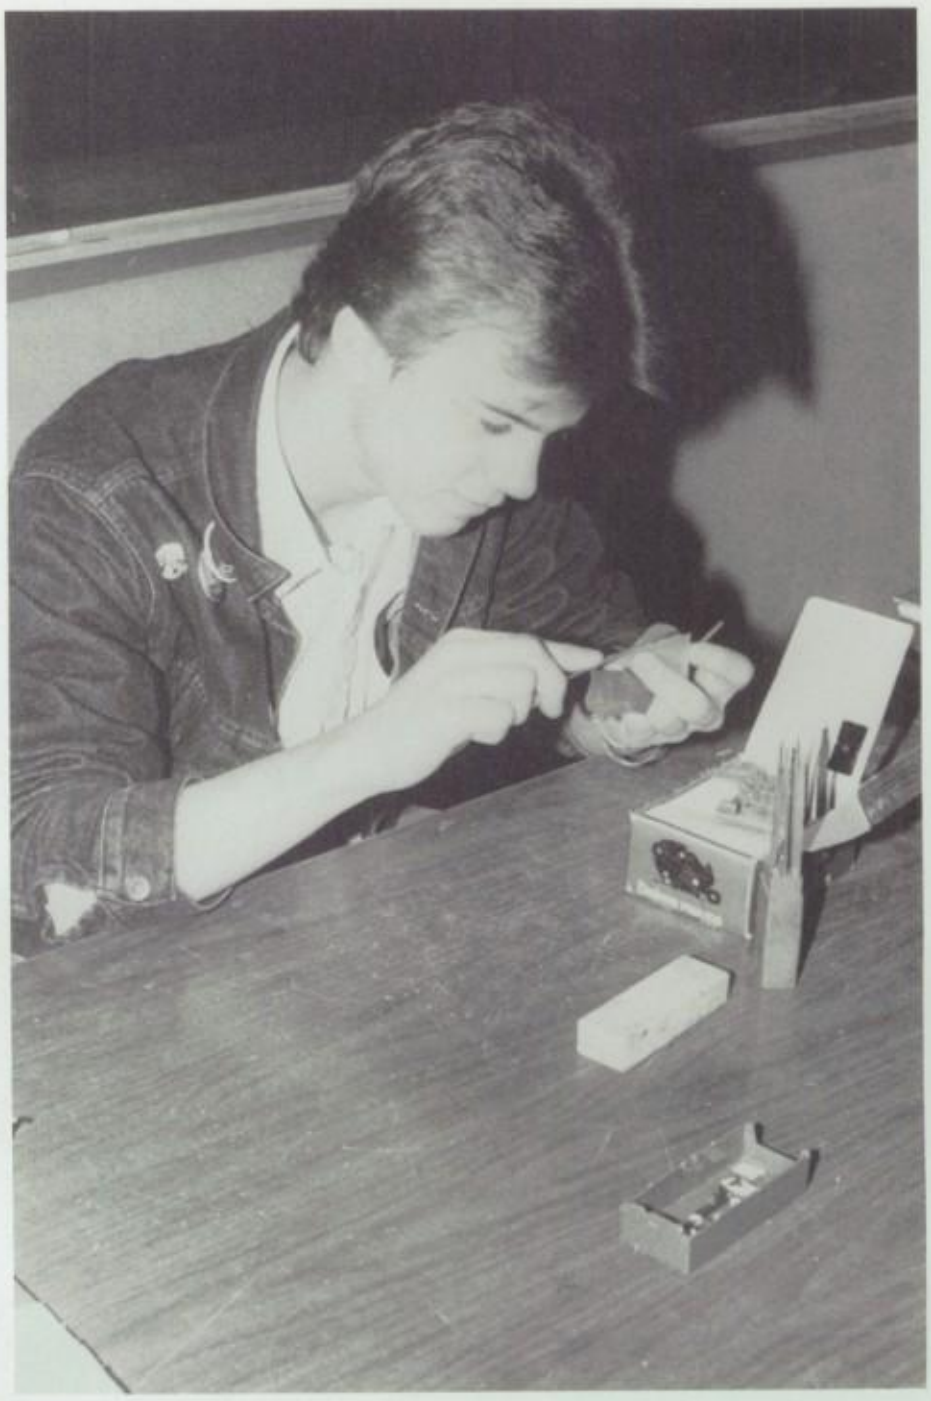
Jeri Fogle puts some finishing touches on the trees.

ARABIAN AGRICULTURE

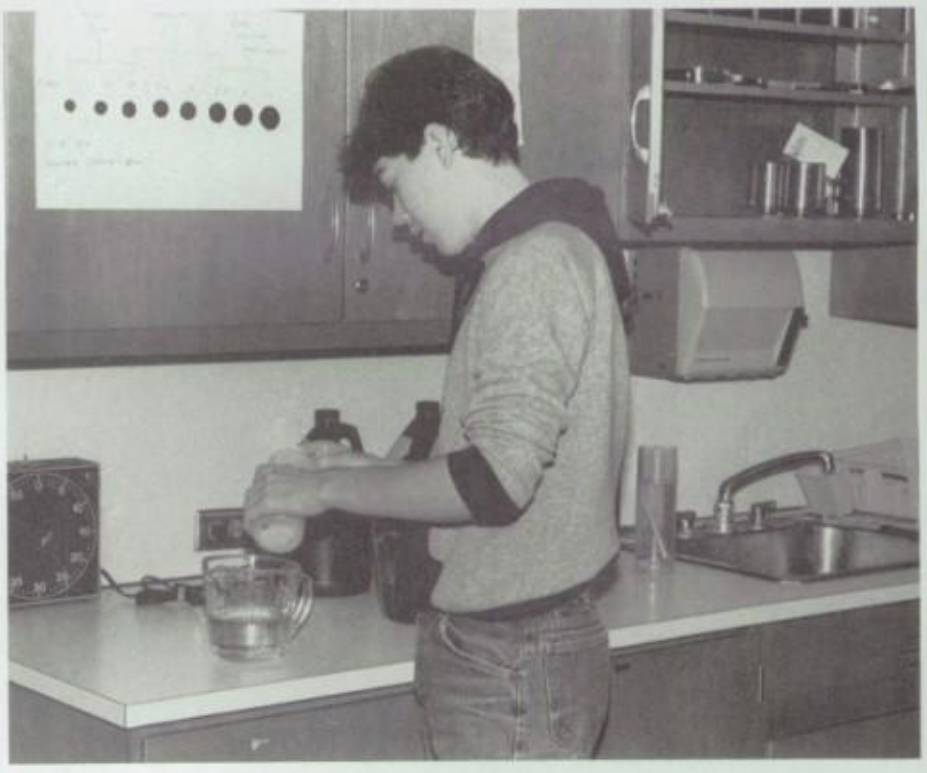
The Horticulture class creates their display for Halloween which included real gravestones.

Drawing, ceramics, jewelry, painting, and photography are just some of the courses offered in the Pendleton Heights Art Department. Once every year, a group from Pendleton Heights goes to the Children's Museum in Indianapolis to help handicapped children participate in the Arts Unlimited Program. They teach them many things and guide them through the museum on a tour.

Jay Etchison checks his negative for lint before printing it.



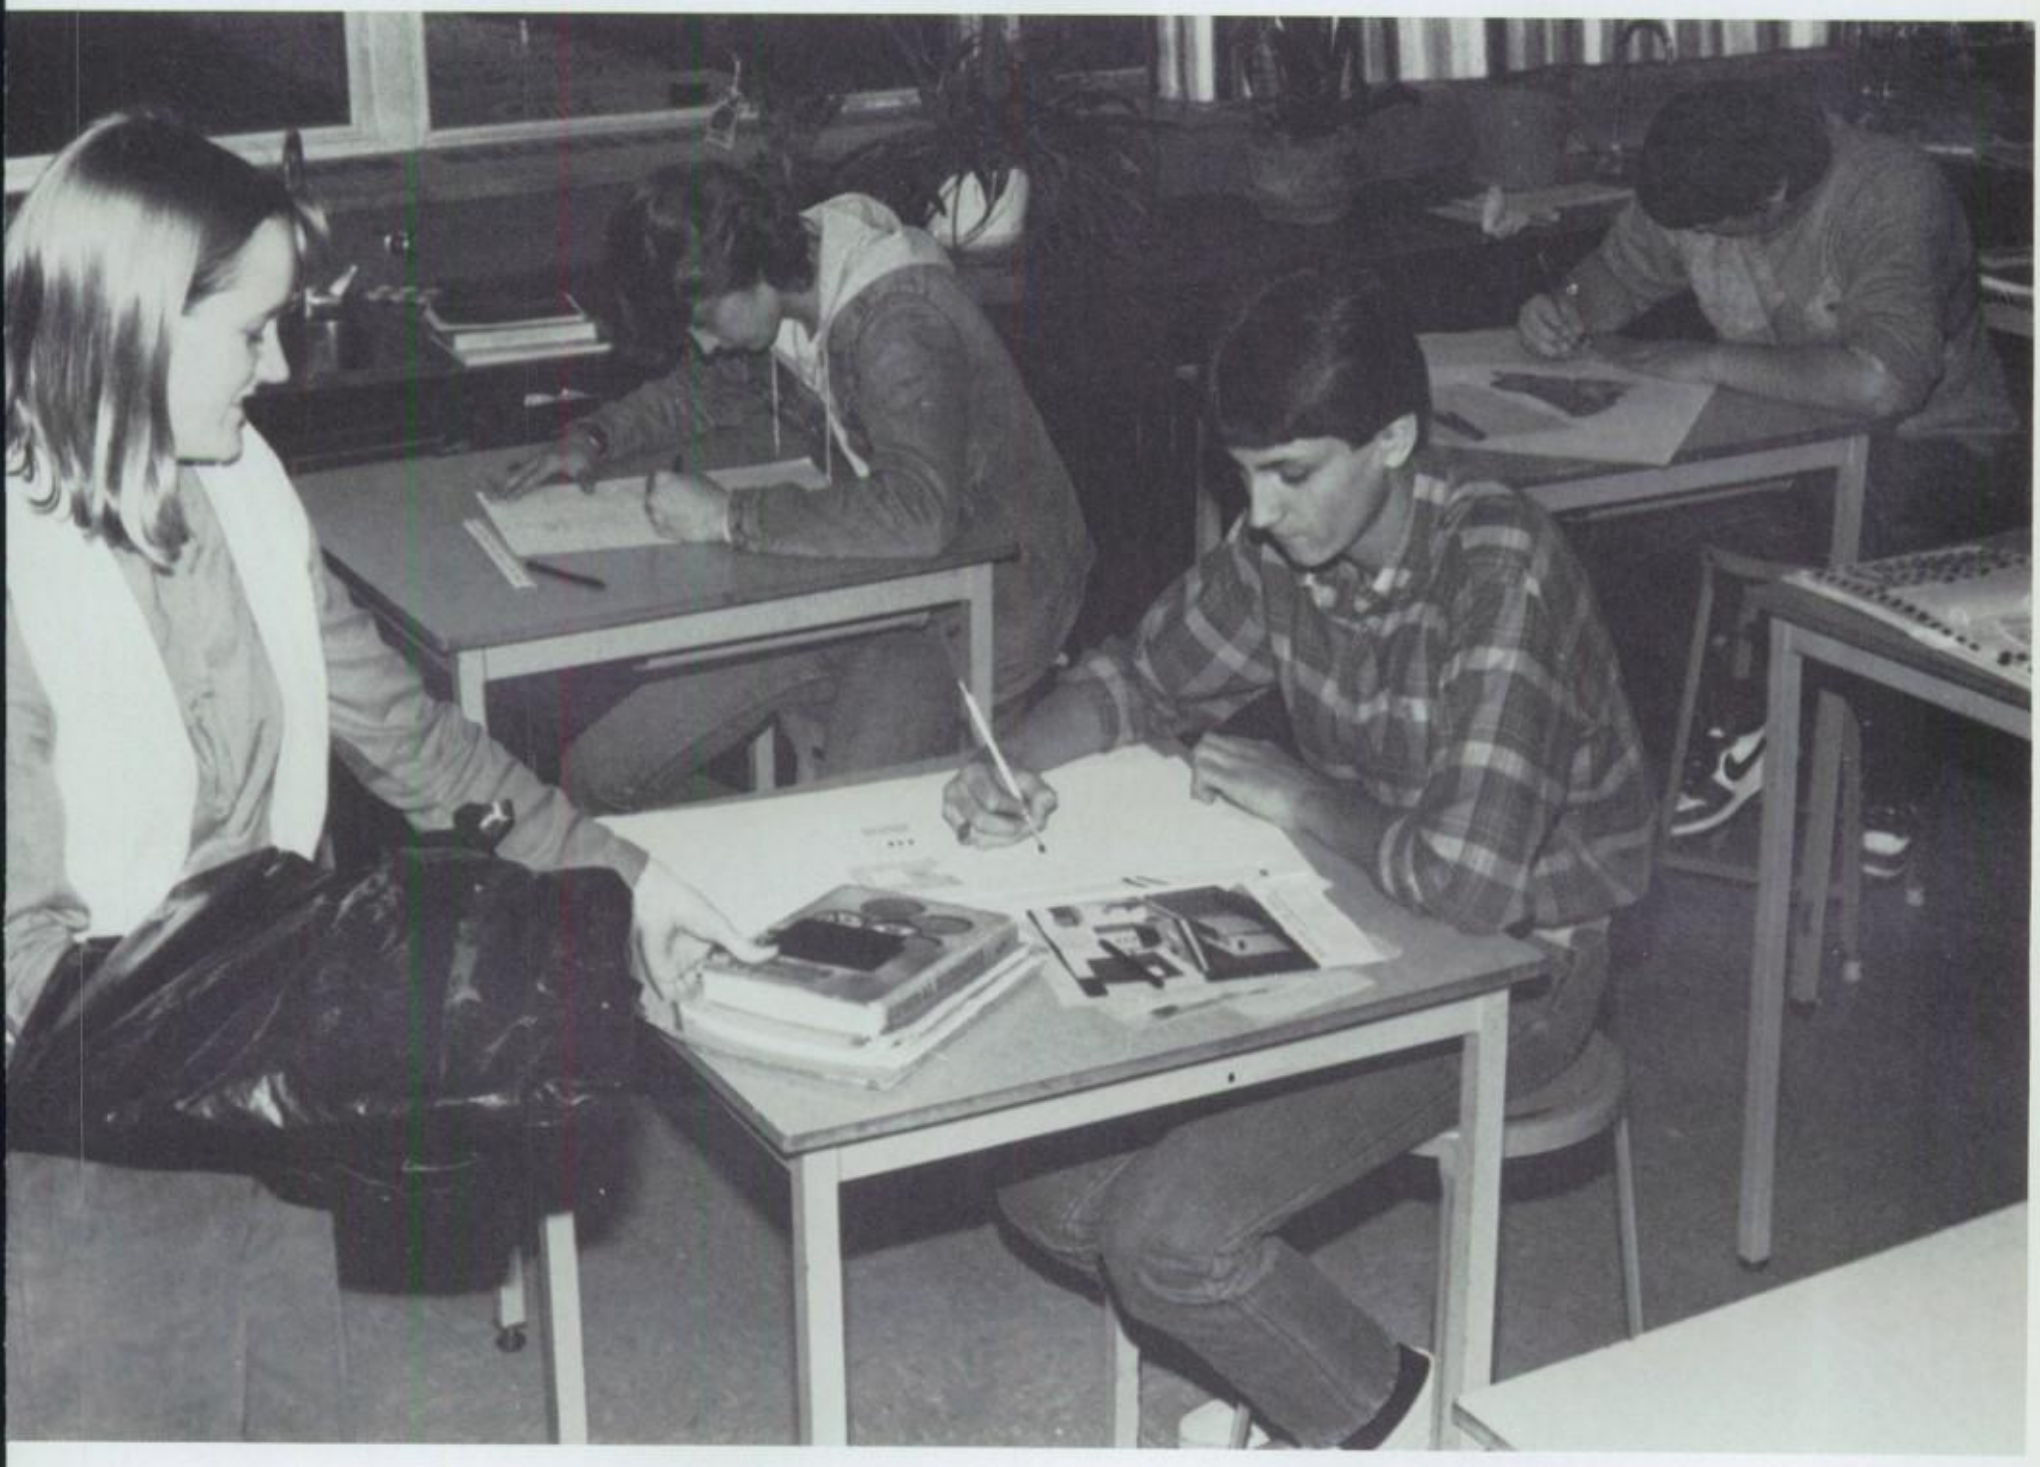
Matt Schnitizius works at the tedious job of creating jewelry.



Scott Downing mixes chemicals to develop a roll of film in photography class.

Brian Dowden and Jason Mallet work on their projects in sculpture class.

An Imaginative Year In Art



Mike Case receives a bit of help from Mrs. Robinson in Drawing and Design I.

"I think I am over about two million dollars on this one," says Steve Holloway to Jeff Brattain.

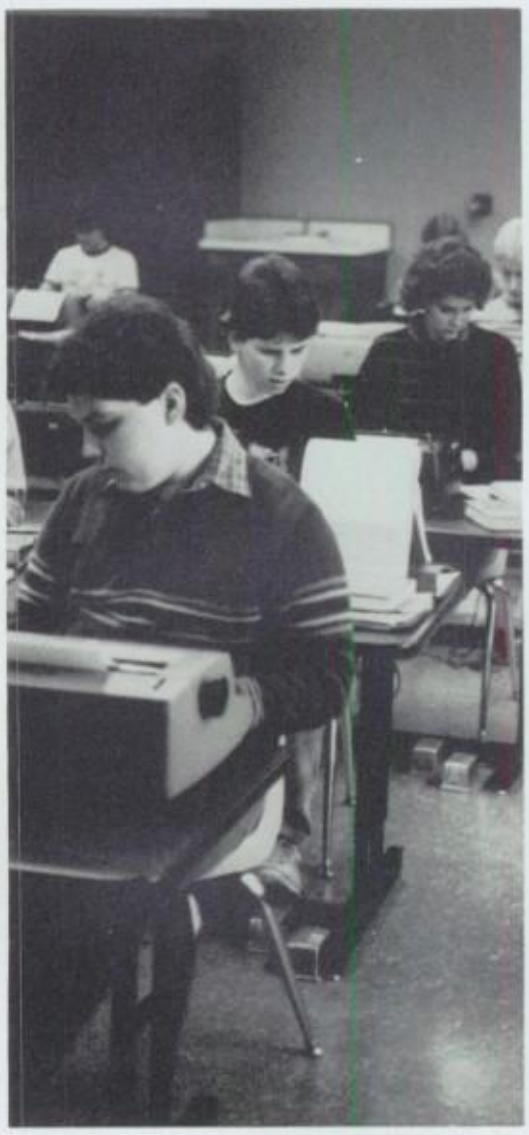
Candy Metcalf types for her "company" in the Administrative Training Support Center.

Keep Moving In Business

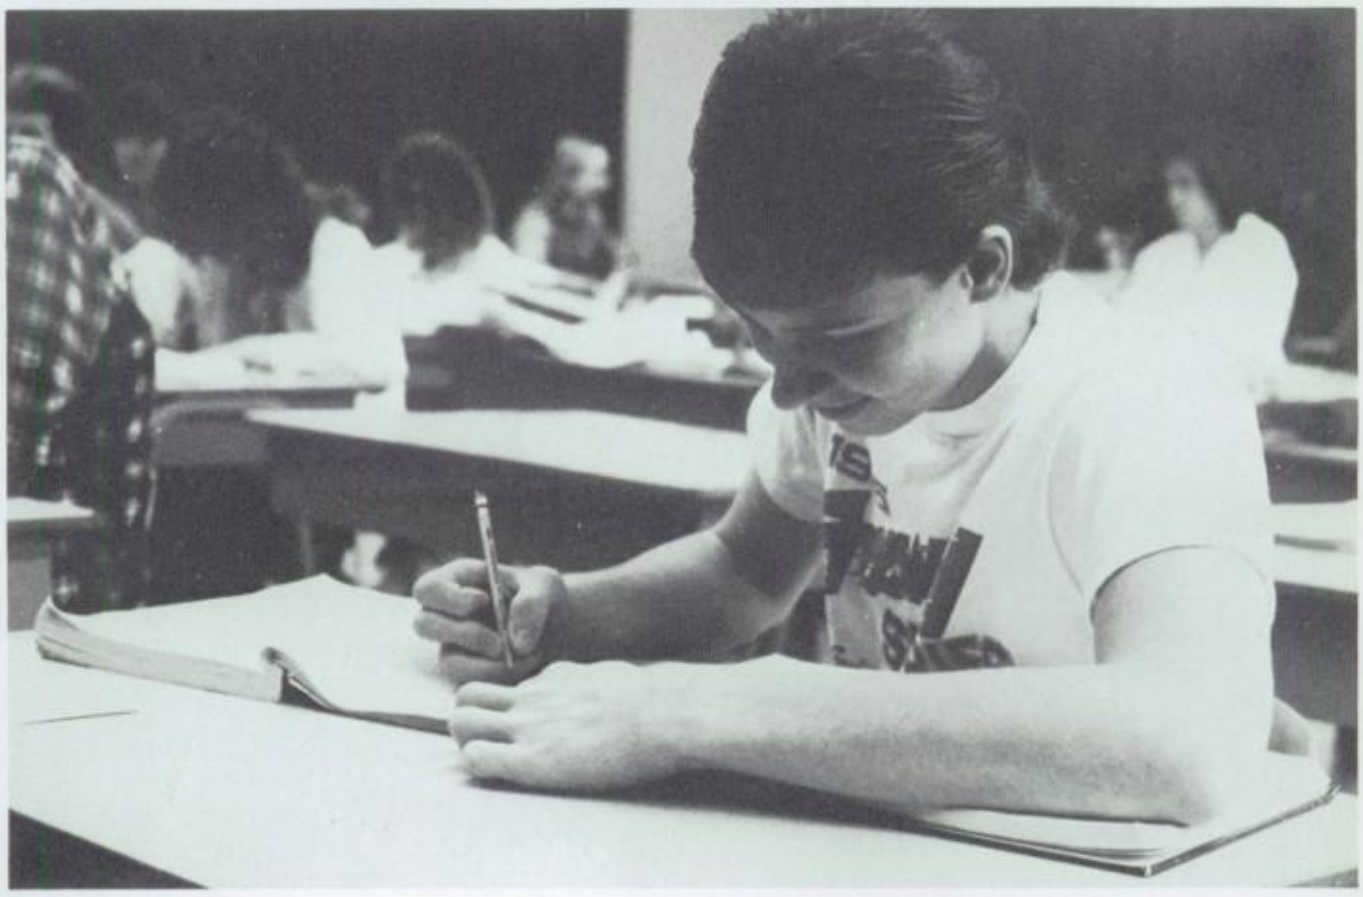
The Business Department at Pendleton Heights offers many interesting classes. These range from basic typing to Accounting II. Another class offered is the Administrative Training Support Center. In this class the students have their own desks and typewriters and are free to decorate the desks as they please.

There were two additions in the Business Department this year. These were Mr. Cox and Mr. Cloud, who are teaching classes in keyboarding, business law, accounting, and general business.

While in the Administrative Training Support Center, the students learn about actual office conditions.



Are these 5 minute timed writings ever going to end?



Sean Shirley, the model student, works diligently on his Accounting I homework.

Scimitar

The Scimitar staff must work many long hours before, during, and after school to create the best yearbook possible. The 1986 yearbook is much more colorful and has more pages than the past yearbooks. The 1985-86 staff consists of eleven students, the advisor Mrs. Lewis, and the photography advisor Mr. Wagner. The staff hopes to please the student body with all their hard work.

Scimitar staff Row One: Jennifer Isbell, Amy Mingle, Rene Castor, Jessica Porter, Joy Phillips, Row Two: Andrea Cloud, Carla Conner, Craig Simmons, Jeff Snodgrass, Chris Hofer, Todd Best, Mrs. Lewis.

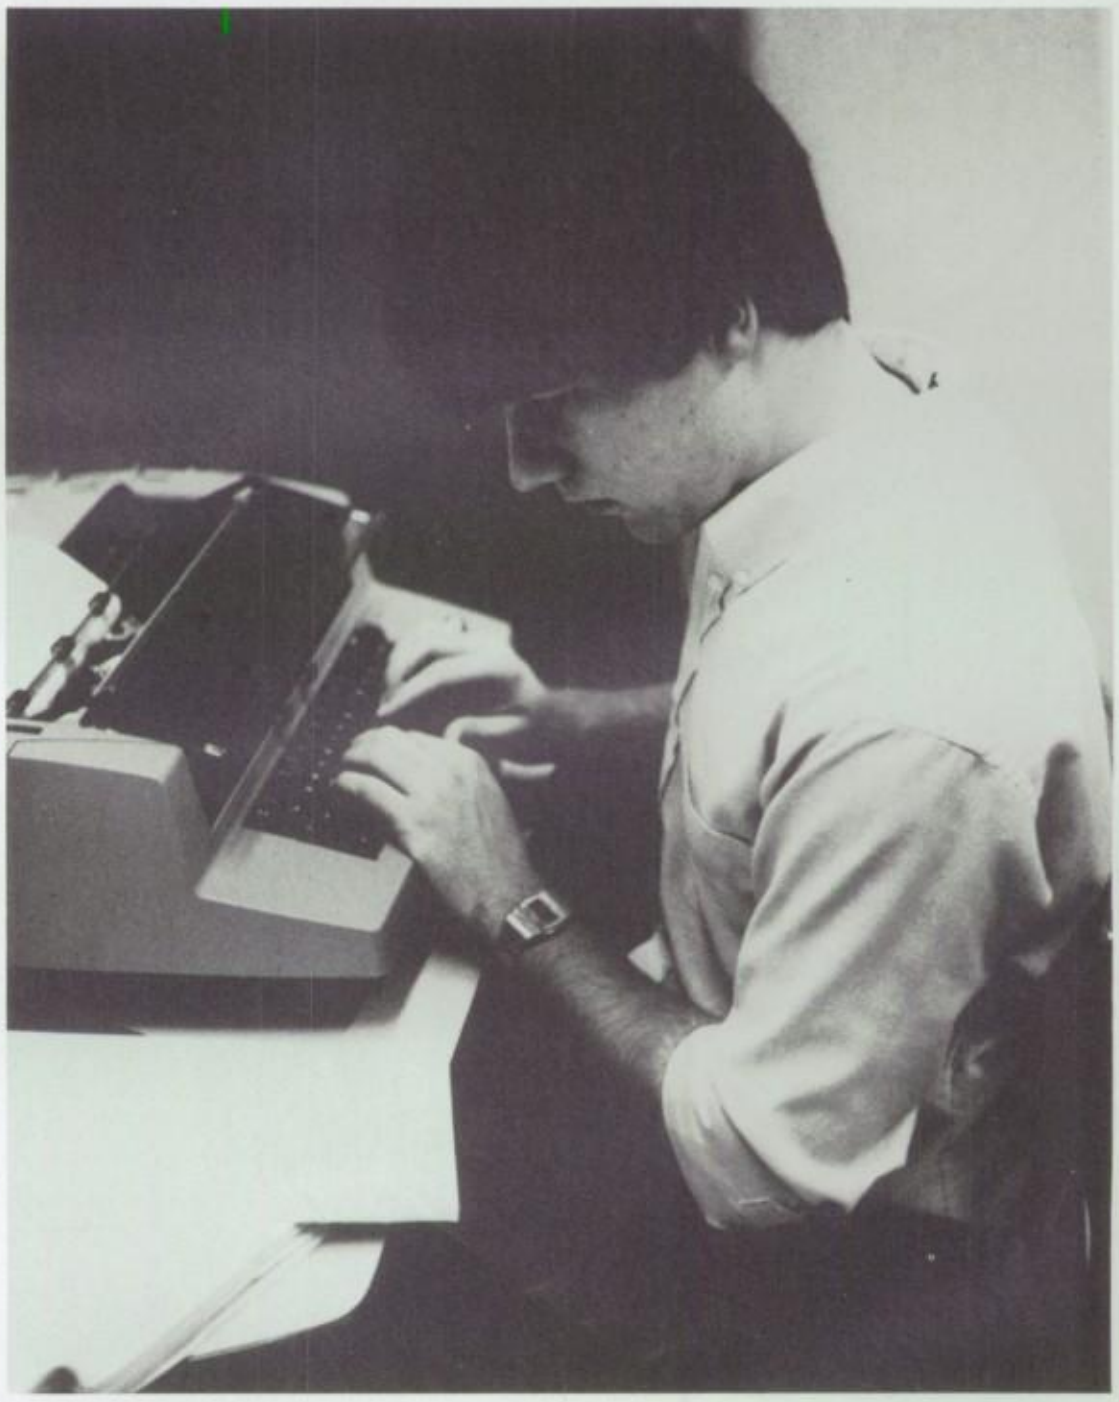
When he is not in the darkroom, Chris Hofer sets up important appointments.



Criag Simmons makes out a type sheet for his layout.

Hoofprint

The Hoofprint class is definitely not a slack class. The students must all be dedicated to do their jobs. They all work steadily to meet specific deadlines. Mrs. Browning, the advisor, Mr. King the printing teacher, and Mr. Wagner the photography advisor, all help the students put the paper together. The paper is published once every month. The Hoofprint staff deserves a great deal of credit for their achievements.

Sara Oliver checks her news beat list for the month.

Lara Heathcote prepares an article for the newspaper.

Deana Rumler adds a few finishing touches to her story.

Arabian News, Sports, and Music

For many students at Pendleton Heights WEEM radio was much more than just another credit for taking the class. This summer some students will be sent to Indiana State to attend an honor institute for radio and television. Some of these students will apply for scholarships. This year WEEM had the honor of sponsoring the Central Indiana Broadcast Convention. They are also proud of their new 1200 watt license.

Sport broadcasters Mindy Whitesel and Jody Nescola, broadcast many of the girls athletic events.

English Department

Mrs. Vendel tries to point out Todd Driggers diagraming mistake without causing too much embarrassment.

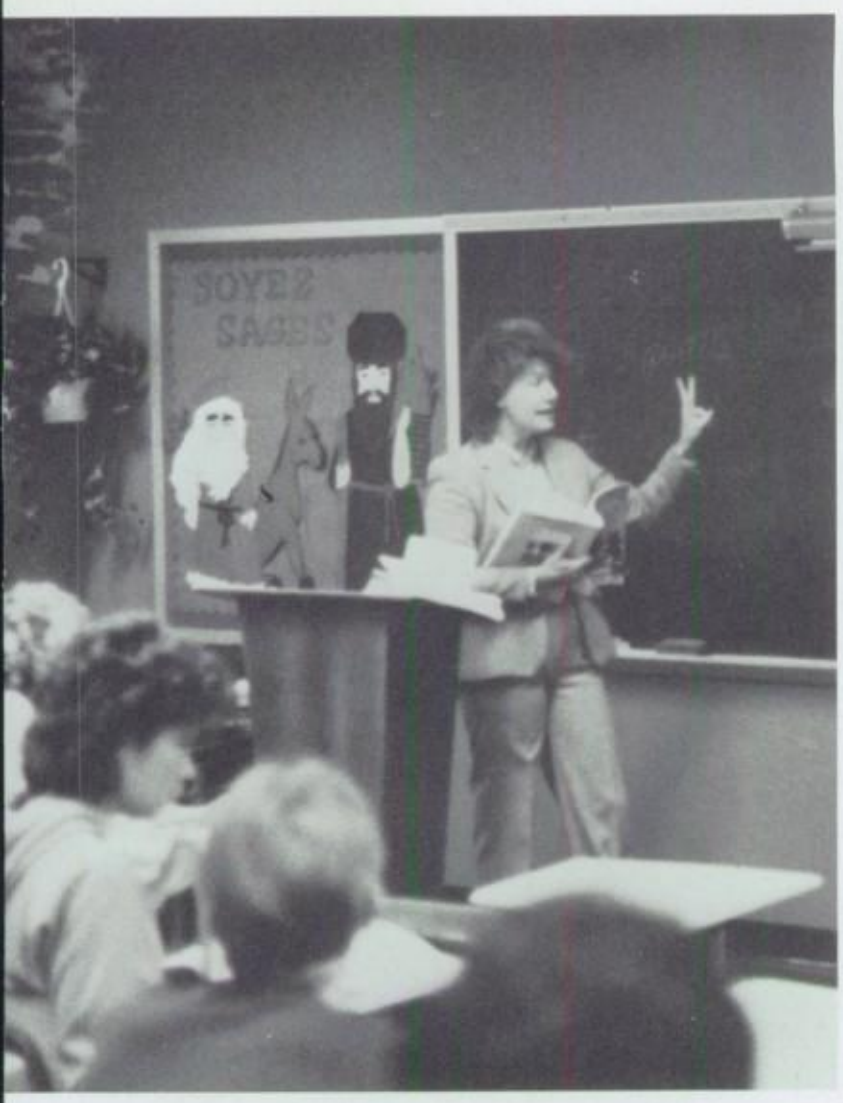
The English teachers at Pendleton Heights spend much time preparing and presenting materials for the required as well as the elective classes in the department. Video tapes, movies of the classics, and other audio visuals make Sheakespeare, Silas Marner, and Julius Caesar understandable and enjoyable.

Mrs. Browning realizes that it is going to be one of those days.

Would you want to kiss this wench?

Jason Mollenkopf explains the importance of the picture as related to Silas Marner.

Which Santa would you want to visit you?



Madame Koch reviews an assignment for French II class.

The foreign language department offers Spanish, French, and German. This year two new teachers have been added to this department. Mrs. Thompson teaches French and Mrs. Hart teaches Spanish. These classes explore different cultures of many countries. Students have the opportunity to taste new foods, see exotic clothing, and of course learn a new language.

Sounds Foreign To Me

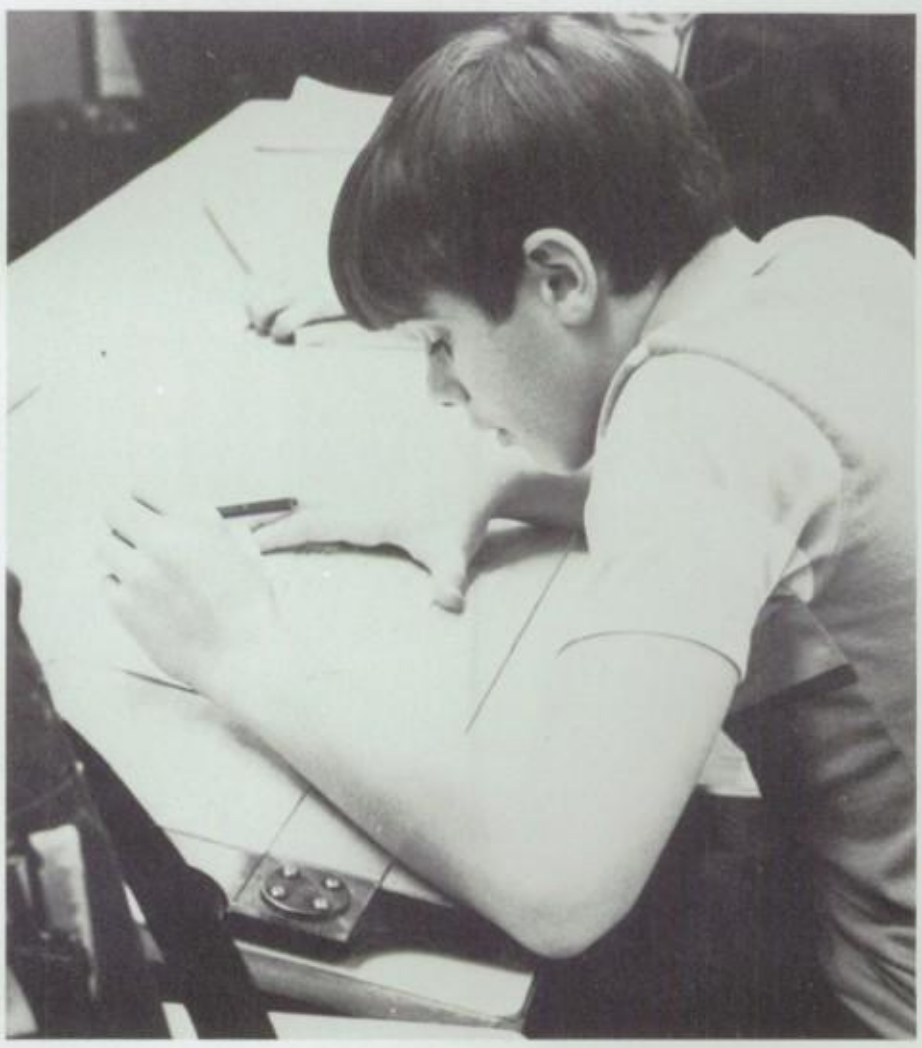
The French class makes a toast while singing a cheery Christmas song.

Pendleton Heights has a variety of classes in the industrial arts department. Each class is designed to accommodate the student's needs in that particular field. A student can progress through the department, taking more difficult classes as he increases his skill in that area.

Each student spends several hours perfecting his pencil skills in elementary drafting.

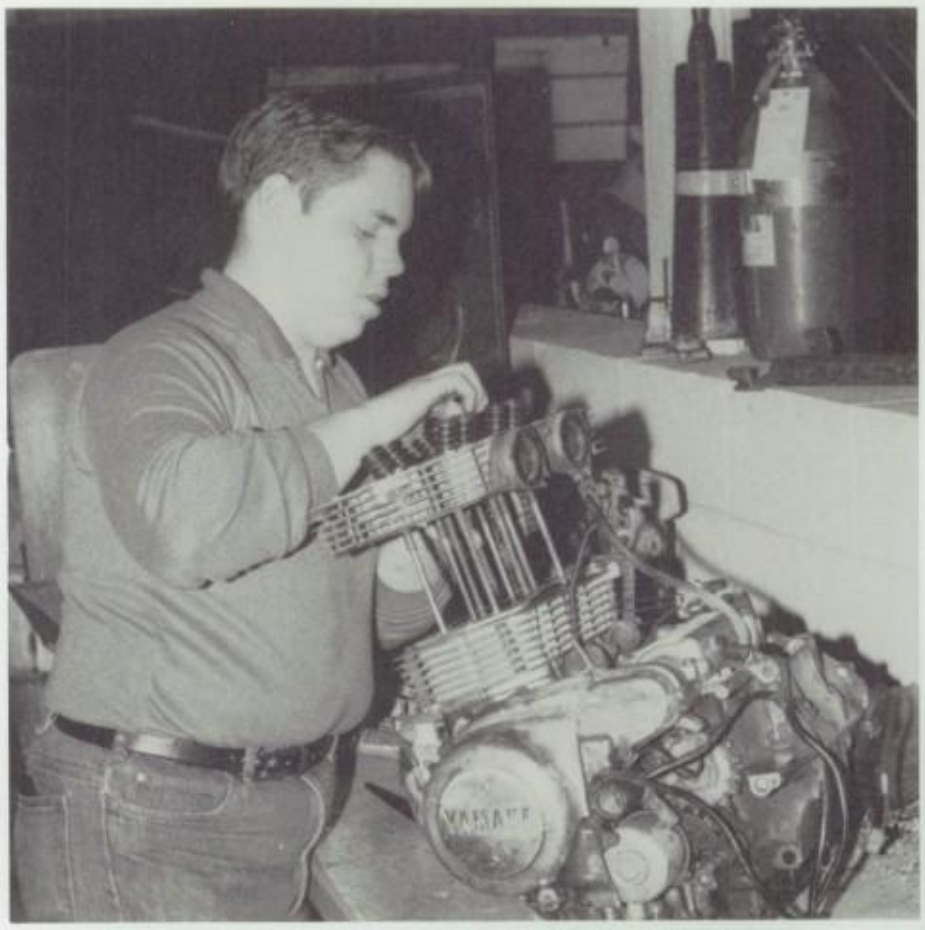
Industrial Arts

Mike Pryor works on his assignment in electricity class, being careful not to get shocked.



Jeff McIlwain strives for the epitome of pencil drawings.

Mike Sizemore perfects his remote control car in his electricity class.



Bryan Caudill works diligently to get this hunk of metal running again.

Pendleton Heights has two vocational classes offered in the industrial arts department. The building trades class is supervised by Mr. Umberger and Mr. Stephenson is in charge of the auto mechanics classes. The building trades is currently building a house for Mr. Coyle. All of the work, excluding the foundation, is done by the students. The auto mechanics classes teach the students the necessities to keep an automobile running and much more.

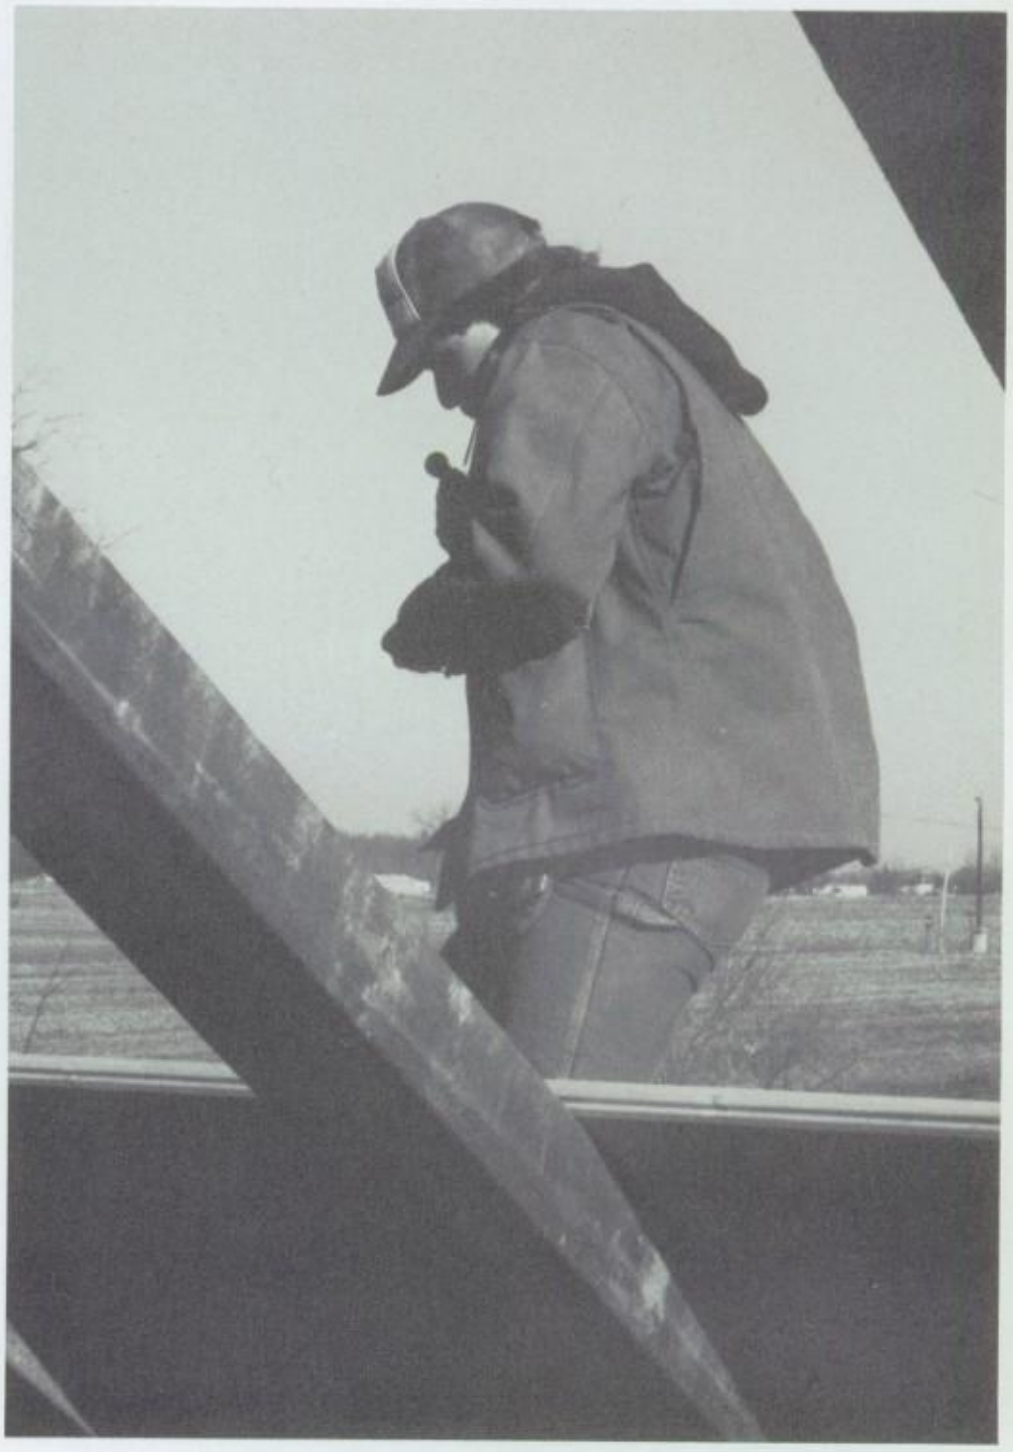
The auto mechanics class keeps the school owned buses in operating condition.

Ray Meyer waits patiently for someone from above to relieve him of his load of wood.

Chad Klakamp is beginning to wonder if the ladder he used to get up will be returned.

Preparing For A Future Career

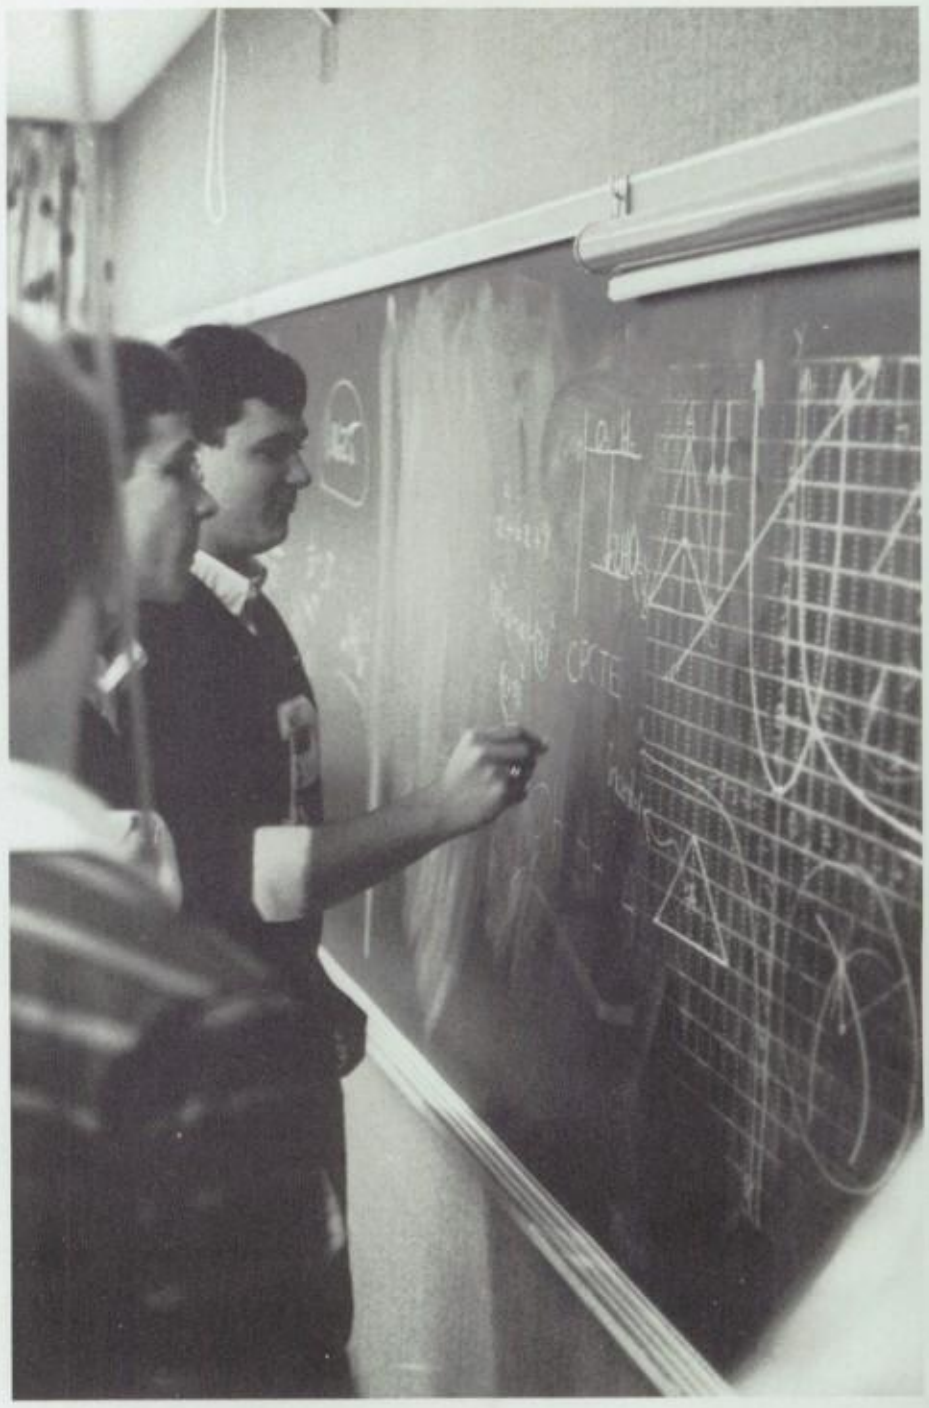
Scott Godbey and John Pryor prepare to set up a scaffold.



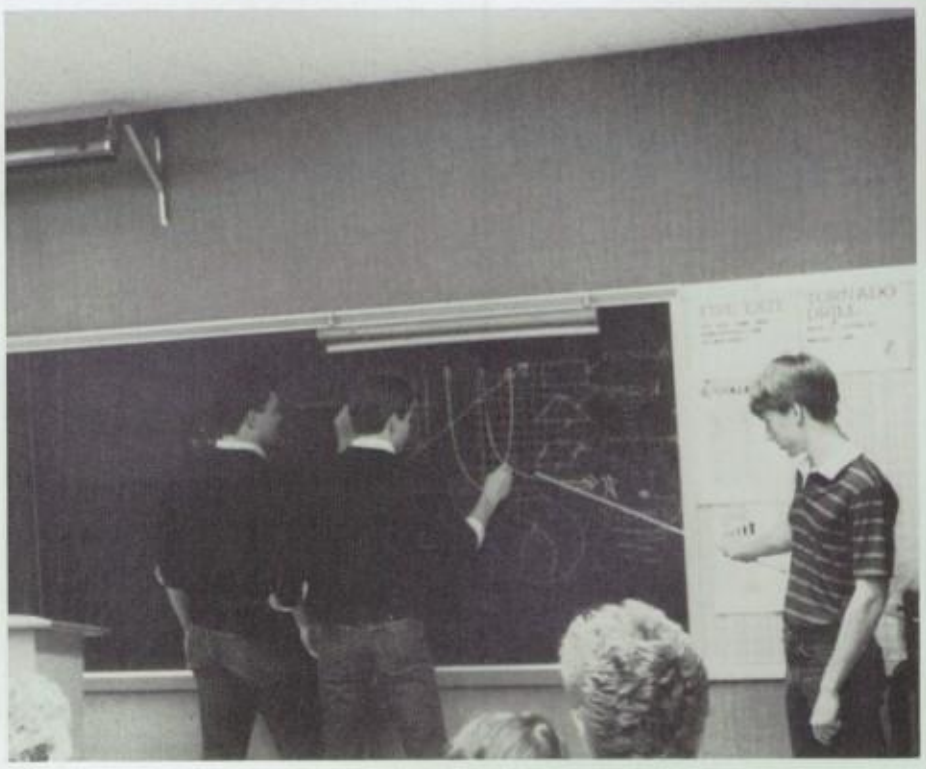
Students in the building trades class begin construction of the roof of Mr. Coyle's house.

The math department has undergone a couple of changes for this year. Mr. Medler has taken over the responsibility of teaching the two physics classes. Mrs. Slaughter, one of the many new teachers at Pendleton Heights, is teaching geometry and calculus classes. Mrs. Slaughter is not new to the school system. She has been teaching off and on at Pendleton Heights since 1972. Mr. Johnson is also a new teacher at Pendleton Heights this year, teaching the computer classes.

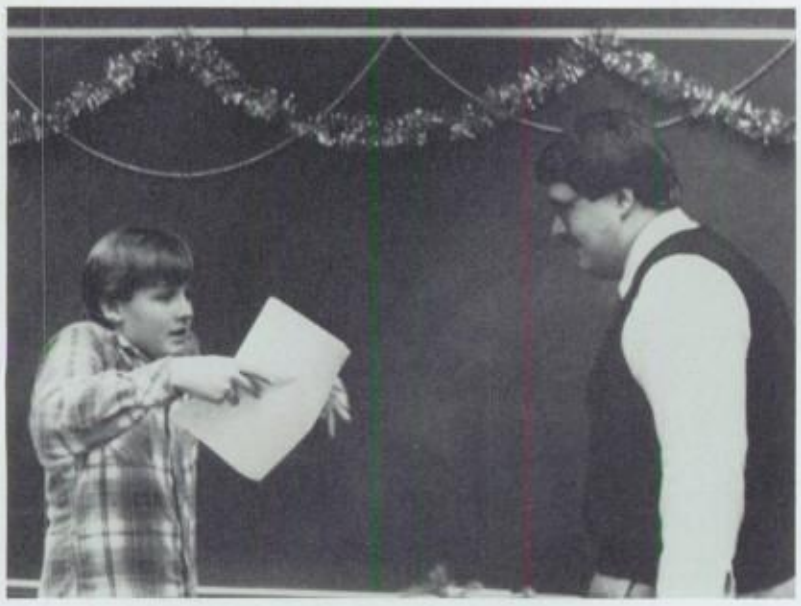
Mr. Noggle uses colored chalk to better explain each individual problem.



Geometry students work proofs out on the blackboards, applying different geometry theorems.



Kyle Marsh explains the problem as Jeff Hilliker and Kris Crawford add the finishing touches.

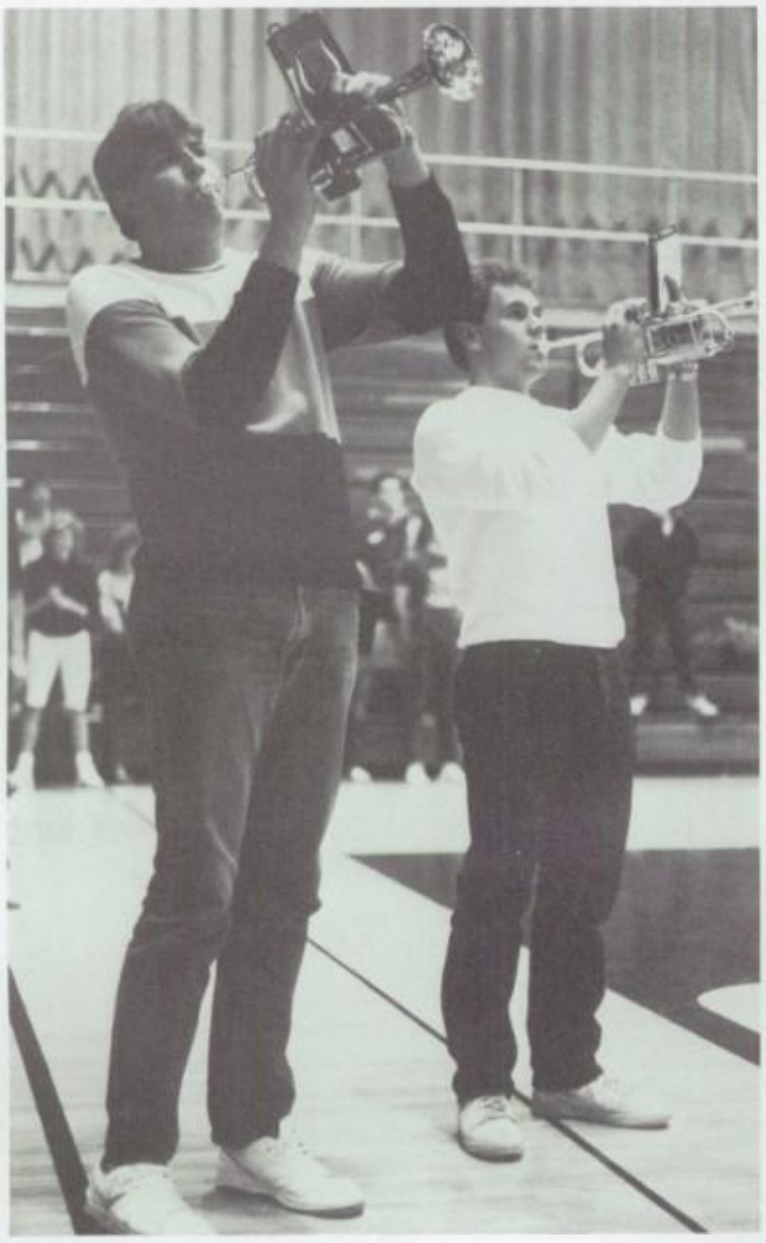


"Gee wiz Mr. Johnson! Don't you have any Christmas spirit? Couldn't you at least give me a higher grade?" exclaims Jeff Hallowell.

Need For Math Background Grows

Mrs. Slaughter likes to have class participation in her geometry classes.

The Arabian band performed in several of the community parades this year and as usual entertained us at halftime during the home football and basketball games. The band also was invited to perform at Butler University during a basketball game halftime.



Scott Isaacs and Erick Schmidtz play a stirring arrangement of the Star Spangled Bannar at the opening of a ball game.

Band class includes time for study on music theory as well as time for playing music.

The Arabian band annually marches in the Homecoming Parade.

LADY ARABIAN PERFECTION

Julie Robinson pushes every muscle to the limit for a perfect shot.

Carla Conner, MVP, reaches high for her best jump.

The Lady Arabians had their 8th undefeated season with a record of 12-0. Their winning streak is now 88-0. Individuals pushed themselves to the limit to accomplish some new records. Theresa Paulie broke the old high jump record of 5'5½" with a jump of 5'5¾". Amber Douglas broke her own school record in the 300 hurdles of 48.9 and is now 47.7. Senior Laura Bagienski also broke her own school record of 2:27.8 in the 800 meter dash with a run of 2:24.2. The 3200 meter relay team of Bagienski, Phillips, Sharritt, and Wihebrink ran for a record of 10:07. Also the shuttle hurdle team of Douglas, Hopkins, Mason, and Holloway ran for a record of 1:09. Captains Rene Hale and Laura Bagienski were great leaders, while Amber Douglas won the spirit award.

Tracy Hackleman strides with great concentration as she approaches the finish line of the 300 hurdles.

Trecia Holloway awaits the baton to sprint for another victory.

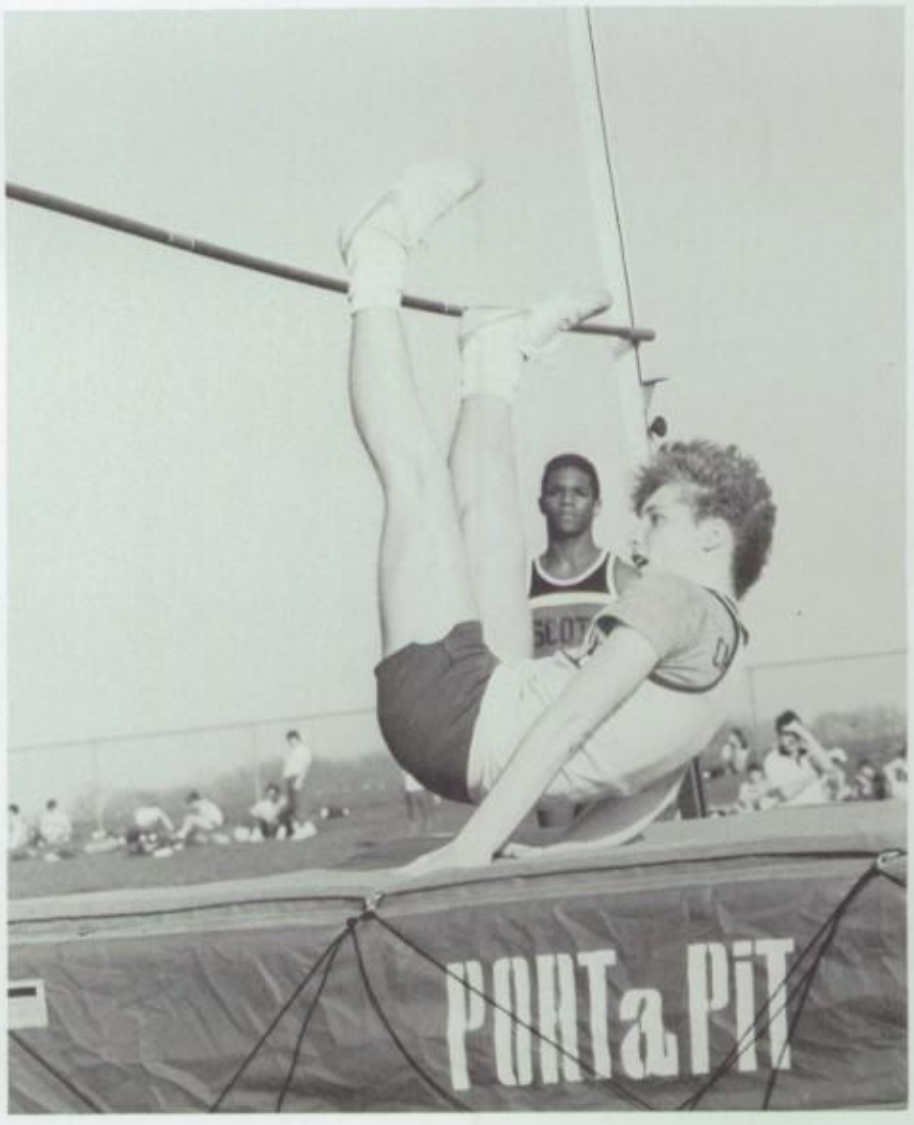
And he's off! It's Mike Harper out of the starting blocks.



For Robert Stenski, the sky was the limit when he did the high jump.

The 1985 spring season was extremely profitable for the boy's track team. It was their second season with a flawless record. Mike Johnson, voted MVP, broke the standing high and low hurdle school records. Brian Hawhee broke the standing freshman low hurdle record and Robert Stenski broke the standing freshman high jump record. Todd Lukens and Mike Chezem were the captains and P.J. Brewster received the spirit award. Tami Jackson and Kevin Tupps were the managers. Jim Noggle was the head coach, Randy Sellers was the distance coach, and George King was the weight coach.

Mark Free buries his feet in the sand during a fabulous attempt to win the long jump.

David Wiley strides back to the dug-out after "three up and three down." David ranked second statewide for RBI's, third for homeruns, and was selected for the All-Stars.

"Three strikes and you're out," says catcher Jimmy Robinson, as he prepares to throw the ball back to the pitcher.

Coach Bargfeldt concentrates intensely as the next batter steps up to the plate.

The baseball team had an outstanding season finishing with a 26-6 record. Stan Clark was the team captain, and Brian Beisser received the spirit award. The 1985 team also finished in the top ten in these areas:
Runs batted in — 278 — 1st
Average runs per game — 9.89 — 3rd
Runs in a season — 329 — 2nd
Total bases in a season — 542 — 5th
Doubles in a season — 62 — 5th
Home runs in a season — 44 — 5th
Extra base hits in a season — 120 — 3rd

Bobby Smith charges in as next-batter-up after an awesome display of defense.

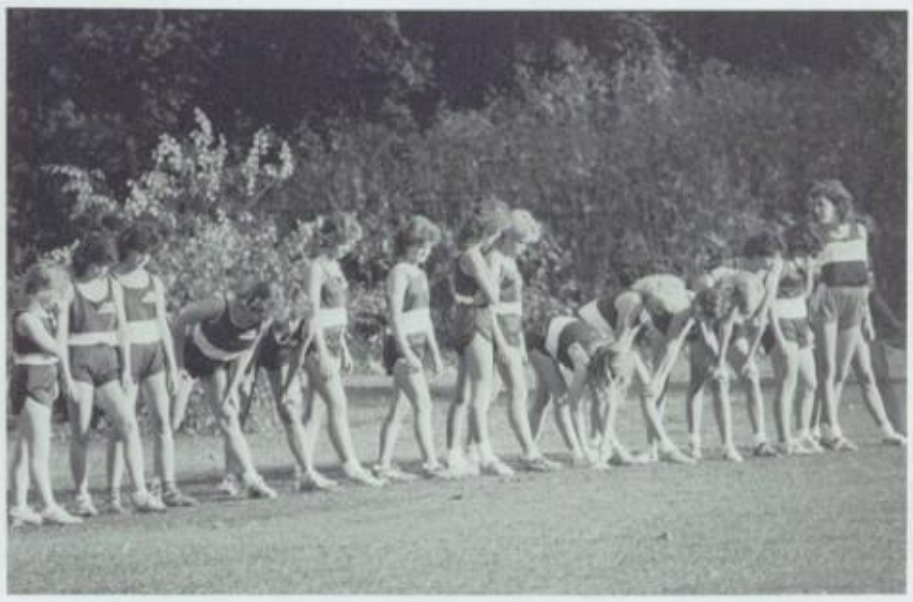
Striding to a Sectional Crown

Joy Phillips, All-Stater for three years, bears the pain as she strides for a victory.

The girls' cross country team had a good season with 5 wins and 0 losses in dual meets and high finishes in several invitationals. Despite their injury-plagued season in which all seven varsity runners were never uninjured at the same time, the girls won the Sectional for the first time ever and went on to place 6th in the Regional. Joy Phillips was the individual Sectional champ and went on to place 14th in the State. She was voted captain and MVP. Sally Henderson received the spirit award, and Stephanie Chaney was the most improved runner for the season.



The girls concentrate nervously as they await the starter's gun moments before the race.

Volleyball Fever — Catch It!!

This year's volleyball team was one of the hardest working teams ever. They started their season with only 6 varsity players and picked up Kim Clifton midway through as the 7th. The Arabians ended their season ranked 4th in the state and a record of 32-3 with all 3 losses to Muncie Burris. The girls won their 6th consecutive sectional and were runner-ups in the regional. Every member proved their spectacular abilities and several received special honors. Carla Conner was on the All-State, All-Regional, All-Sectional, and All-County teams. Amber Douglas and Trecia Holloway were on the All-Regional, All-Sectional, and All-County teams. Pam Brown was on the All-County team and joined Janie Sharritt on the All-Sectional team.

This years captains were Carla Conner and Janie Sharritt. Carla Conner also won the MVP award while Amber Douglas won the spirit award. Team managers were Nancy Stewart and Cari Petty.

Wherever American GI's went in World War II, they found Coca-Cola had been there first. The Coke bottle grew—and cans were added—but it was still the drink for holidays or simply a day at the beach—even for Arabians (left). But now, the taste is changing—and a lot of loyalists are wondering if that's really a good idea.

Extracurricular Events Increase

On a cold Saturday morning, sixty-five selected students left for the first Pendleton Heights leadership camp in Trafalger, Indiana. The purpose of this camp was to develop the leadership qualities of those who have the potential to be leaders at Pendleton Heights. The weekend was full of activities. In order for a team to be successful, each member of the team must take responsibilities, and the team must work together. Points were kept for each activity, and a winner for the weekend was determined. Each member of the winning team received a trophy for their first place finish. Everybody that attended the leadership camp received a leadership t-shirt. This camp was such a success that it should become an annual event.

Loaded down with the necessities to survive the weekend, students await the arrival of the buses.

Above: Christy Gasparovic, Andrea Hoppes, and Tammie Steele enjoy a break from the numerous activities. At right: After all of the luggage and people had been loaded on the bus, the ride proved to be just a little crowded.

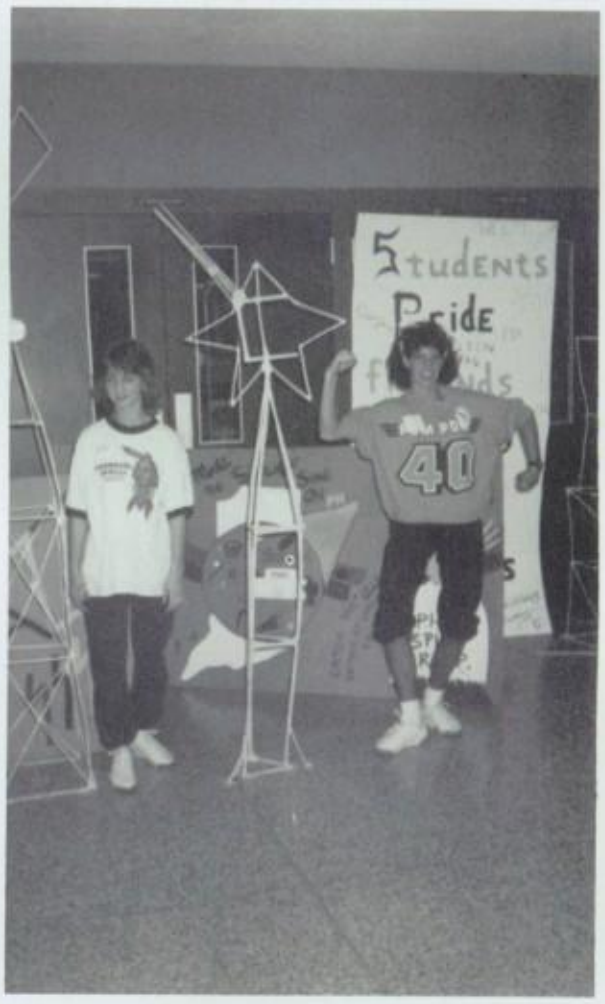
The scavanger hunt was one of the activities in which total group cooperation was needed.

School Leadership And Spirit

An extemely successful person, Mike Bell, spoke at both the leadership camp and the lock-in to instill self-confidence among students.

On a Friday night two hundred people returned to Pendleton Heights to attend the spirit lock-in. Included in these two hundred people were students, teachers, and chaperones. The lock-in was a branch-off from the leadership camp. Students who attended the camp planned all of the activities that would occur that night. A highlight of the evening was the live appearance on the channel 13 news. The purpose of the lock-in was to develop more school spirit. Some activities of the evening were watching a movie, visiting Star Skate, and listening to guest speaker Mike Bell talk about positive attitudes. The lock-in concluded with an award ceremony in which each member of the first place team received a trophy.

Kim Clendenen crams a peanut butter sandwich in her mouth as Heidi Miller keeps an eye on the other teams in the food eating relay.



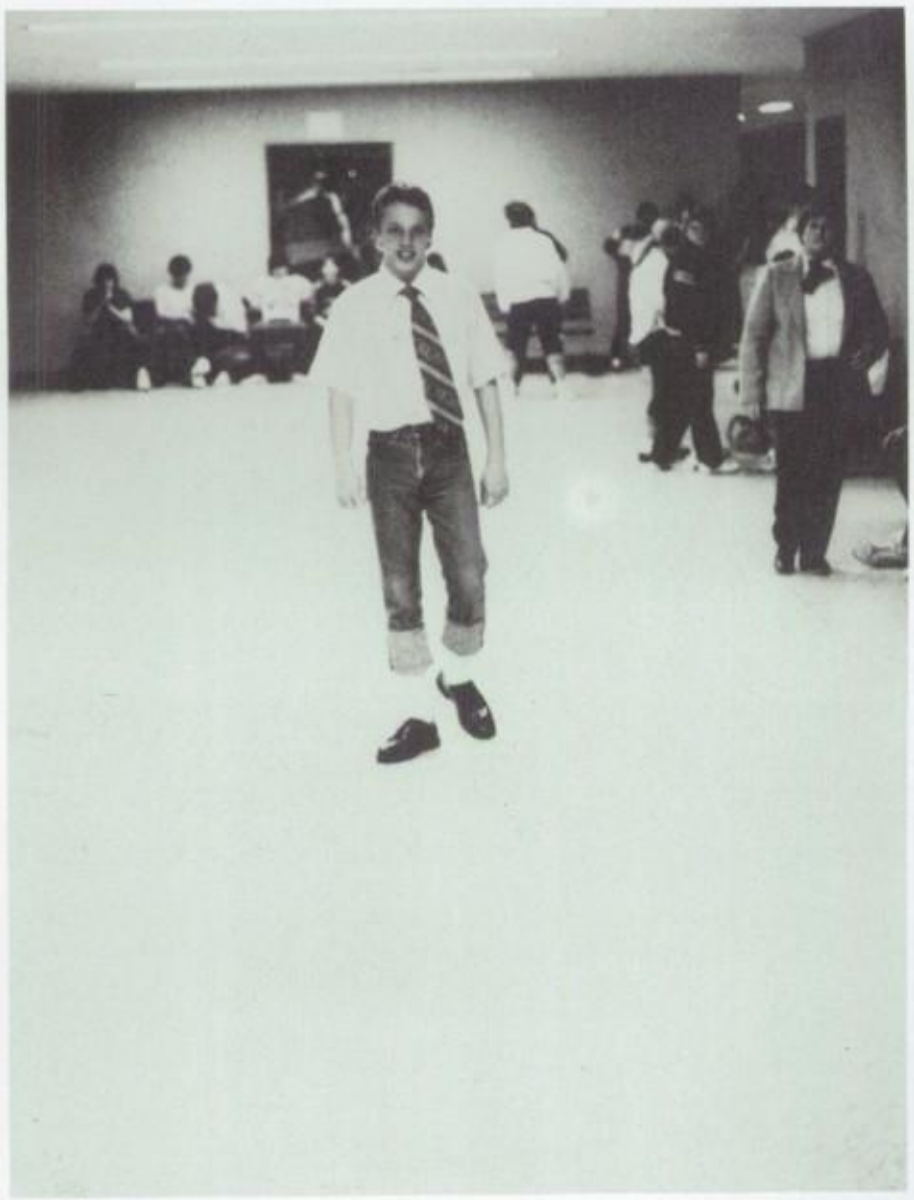
Above: Sherri Ridge and Jolie Skinner exhibit confidence that their team's posters and towers will win the contest. At left: Gail Walschlager, Christy Judy, Mindy Paul, Kerrie Underwood, and Heather Jablonski are caught by surprise while constructing the perfect spirit poster.

On January 17th, PHHS experienced a fun change. That day we were put back in time thirty years as students participated in a fifties day and dance, later that evening.

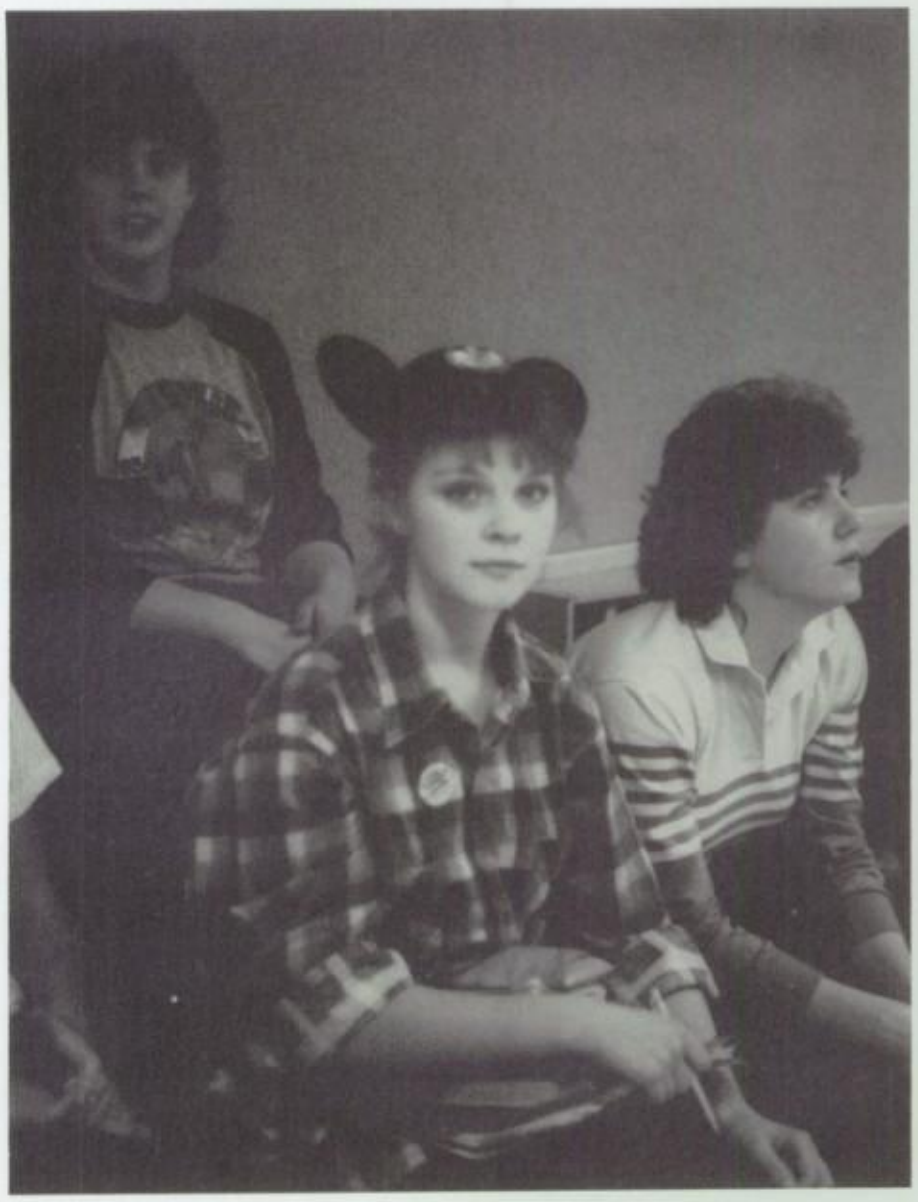
At the dance there were many contests judged by Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Noggle, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hillan. The twist contest was won by Hannah Keesling and Heather Jablonski. They were awarded hoola hoops as a grand prize! The winner of the limbo contest was Ken Plummer and the hoola hoop contest was won by Jon Doty.

The evening was topped off by the "Bouffant Four" singing. The Fifties Day and Dance was sponsored by student council and was attended by approximately 250 enthusiastic, fun-loving students.

The "Bouffant Four", Heather Swain, Kerrie Underwood, Jolie Skinner, and Jill Gasparovic entertain the crowd as they lip-sync "Stop in the Name of Love."



Wes Copper joins the fun of the fifties day and dresses for the occasion.



Why? Because we like you Shelly Copua!

Brett Mabrey, you look like a frustrated musician, but why didn't you really sing for us?

Leslie Butler and Andrea Hoppes get into the swing of things as they try to win the hoola hoop contest.

Let's Go To The Hop!

Laura Hinkle, Kelly Lane, Onnie Cave, and Sharon Owens talk about all the great outfits they have seen throughout the day.

Emi Hatcher and Mo Denham, how low can you go?

SECTIONAL '86

The week of March the third through March the seventh was spent in preparation for sectional. On Tuesday, students stayed after school and decorated the halls. Wednesday was declared crazy green and white day. First hour classes were given the responsibility of decorating the classroom door. Students were later dismissed to the gym for a spirited pep session. Friday was declared Hawaiian day, one of the few times students can wear shorts. Another pep session was held at the end of the day. School spirit and enthusiasm were displayed the entire week by students and teachers. After the final game on Saturday, one last pep session was held in the gym.
